

Nixon Acts to Get Trains Rolling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking signalmen closed most of the nation's vast rail system today. President Nixon promptly appealed to Congress to halt the walkout by extending until July 1 the period for negotiations between rail management and the signalmen.

In a message to the Congress, made public at the White House in Key Biscayne, Nixon said: "A nationwide stoppage of the rail industry and the signaling signalmen closed most of the nation's vast rail system today. President Nixon promptly appealed to Congress to halt the walkout by extending until July 1 the period for negotiations between rail management and the signalmen."

The President called on the Senate and House to promptly pass a joint resolution that, technically, would have the effect of extending until July 1 the present contract between the rail industry and the signaling signalmen.

Nixon said Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson would work during that period toward promoting a voluntary settlement. In the absence of a negotiated agreement, he called on Hodgson "to report to me and the Congress by June 21."

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler noted this was the third time Nixon has gone to Congress for hurry-up legislation to avert or halt a coast-to-coast rail shutdown.

"The Congress has been responsive on this in the past," said Ziegler, adding that if the Senate and House act today, "very likely the railroads would be operating normally tomorrow."

Pending any congressional action to halt the rail strike, Nixon also signed an executive order listing priorities "as guidance and instructions to federal agencies, to shippers and to one-day nationwide walkout by carriers" on what goods should be shipped first. These included berries, foods, drugs and medical supplies, fuels needed for electric power production and some categories of mail.

Congress had made no special plans to handle the strike before it recessed for the week-end, and it was an open question how soon any legislation could be passed. It took a mid-spread across the country.

By 9 a.m. EDT a spokesman for the Federal Railroad Administration reported "a pretty well shutdown situation" as far west as Chicago, and predicted the rail industry would be at a virtual halt all across America by noon.

First to feel the strike were morning rail commuters in New York, Chicago and other large cities. New York's state-owned Long Island Rail Road was still running because it bargains locally, but all other commuter and intercity passenger trains were affected, along with freight service. No exemptions were made for military cargo or perishable goods.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., where President Nixon was winding up a weekend sojourn, White House sources said Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson was preparing legislation to send to Congress, probably by the end of the day.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said Hodgson telephoned to say that the administration would submit emergency legislation sometime this morning.

Upwards of 20 passengers on a New York to Chicago Amtrak train were halted at Buffalo today and transferred to a bus for the remainder of the trip as the nationwide rail strike spread into New York.

The strike was called by the 13,000-member AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, and other rail unions are honoring their picket lines.

Reports from throughout the state showed either complete work shutdowns or rail terminals and yards slowing down and about to close.

At Selkirk, a large switching point south of Albany, a spokesman for the Penn-Central said pickets were in evidence but that some men from the overnight shift continued on the job.

Historic Group Making Plans

Moving to Save Old City Hall

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON
The Historic Landmarks Preservation Commission plans to declare the old city hall at 408 Broadway an historic landmark, thereby preventing its demolition.

"The people would be outraged if that building were torn down," Fred Johnston, chairman of the Landmarks Preservation Commission, told The Freeman today.

"We were flooded with phone calls when the news broke" (about plans by Kingston Hospital to acquire the old city hall, demolish it and build new facilities with parking). "If we're going to act like a responsible organization, we must designate city hall."

Johnston said that the commission does not need the approval of the city government in order to designate an historic landmark. It must, however, document its case through research that the building to be designated qualifies because of its history and or architecture.

Special

Once designated, a building cannot be either demolished or "drastically altered," Johnston said.

Johnston said the commission "suffered terrible criticism" from the public after the old Post Office on Broadway was torn down two years ago and replaced with a drive-in restaurant.

"There were only three historical civic buildings in the city," Johnston said, "the post office, city hall and the courthouse. The Post Office is gone. The courthouse is protected as a historical site. We must save city hall."

Johnston looks at the preserving of city hall from both the practical and aesthetic side.

"It's entirely possible," Johnston said, "that the city hall downtown may not prove adequate to the city's needs. The city might need more space. The old city hall might have to be used."

Johnston was asked why the Landmarks Preservation Commission waited until this late date (the old city hall is expected to be vacated within the next six months) to make plans to declare it an historic site.

Activity in another area of the city seems to be the answer. "We were formed to save the stockade area from urban renewal," the chairman explained. "Since our founding in 1966 we have designated 35 buildings in the Stockade area. While it was a struggle at first, urban renewal has now offered its full cooperation and we are not only preserving the Stockade area but enhancing it."

City hall presents an entirely different situation since the commission was dealing with private owners in the Stockade area. There is the Stockade possibility that the commission may come to loggerheads with the government over city hall. And the government created the commission. As such, it could dissolve it.

The government has given no indication that it is opposed to the demolition of city hall.

Meanwhile time may be running out for the old city hall. "It takes several months to do the historical research necessary," Johnston says. "We have no funds, no staff."

The commission meets on May 21 in the city courtroom. Indications are that the first formal steps toward designating city hall an historical structure will be taken at that time.

Opening of Benedictine Heliport Boon to Valley Medical Progress

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON
Medical progress in the Mid-Hudson Valley got a lift Saturday when Benedictine Hospital's new heliport was dedicated with about 400 persons witnessing the ceremonies which featured State Police helicopter demonstrations.

The only heliport between Albany and Rockland Counties and only one of nine in the state, the heliport is designed for use by the entire community and promises to prove invaluable in the delivery of urgently needed vaccines, rare blood or plasma and transplants. Medical personnel and the sick can also be airlifted to and from the hospital.

Named after a Woodstock doctor who made his rounds in horse and buggy days, Dr. Mortimer B. Downer, the heliport was built with funds and labor and materials donated by friends of the hospital.

The ceremonies drew such dignitaries as Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr., Assemblyman H. Clark Bell, Mayor Francis R. Koenig, and Major Raymond M. Kisor, Troop Commander, Troop K, Middletown. The dedication was made by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Christopher Kane and remarks were made by Thomas McLoughlin, both co-directors of Catholic Charities for the Archdiocese of New York.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. James V. Keating, episcopal vicar of Ulster County, blessed the heliport which is located at the rear of the hospital on Mary's Avenue. The 50-by-50 pad was enhanced with turf, flowers, a windsock and a memorial to Dr. Downer which was inscribed with a helicopter and a horse and buggy as well as his name.

Sister Mary Charles, hospital administrator, commenting on the community effort behind the construction of the heliport, said that the project, only a dream, a short 18 months ago, has come through with flying colors. She credited Mrs. Gale Brownlee, granddaughter of the late Dr. Downer, and a helicopter pilot herself, with inaugurating the hospital heliport concept in Kingston and praised her for her efforts in behalf of the fund raising drive.

McLoughlin called the facility a "dynamic health apostolate," adding that "a good deal is owed to the community for its contributions of time and talent."

Mayor Koenig hailed the effort as being one for the "betterment of the community."

the Mid-Hudson Valley, proving once again that the County of Ulster is a leader.

Dr. Milton Grover, president of the Benedictine Hospital Medical and dental staff, detailed the late Dr. Downer's life, calling him "a fine doctor and an enthusiastic teacher... a friend, a confident and a healer, it is eminently fitting that the heliport be named in honor of him."

Mrs. Brownlee, in her remarks, said the project would not have been possible without the cooperation and assistance of a great many people who donated their time, equipment and labor and materials. "We are gratified," she concluded.

Jack E. Turk, chairman of the dedication committee, served as master of ceremonies. Sister Mary Charles introduced the many members of the Downer family from Kingston and Woodstock and music was provided by Joe Vigna Combo. John McCullough sang the National Anthem.

Ulster County REACT aided with radio communications as did Nelson Communications, Civil Air Patrol, Kingston Composite Squadron, with Major Sidney Lane in charge, was also at hand. Members of the dedication committee and Benedictine women volunteers served refreshments.

Two State Police helicopters landed on the pad and representatives of the state and local police, sheriff's department and firemen and ambulances were in attendance.

Serving with Turk on the committee were Joe E. O'Connor, James J. Norton, Bernard Feeney Jr., Robert Yallum, Paul DeLisio, Sister Mary Charles, Gerard Nocton, assistant administrator, Mrs. Brownlee and Lynn Mulvaney, publicity.

West Shokan Woman Auto Victim

By WALTER S. CLARK

WEST SHOKAN
Approximately 20 persons, including a 73-year-old local woman resident, lost their lives in weekend traffic accidents and at least four others were killed in water and unrelated mishaps between Friday 6 p.m. and midnight Sunday.

State Police reported Ida Blume of West Shokan, was fatally injured after 3 a.m. yesterday, when the car in which she was riding went out of control and overturned off the Watson Hollow Road in this community.

Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp, who investigated with troopers, reported the woman's death was caused by a crushed chest. She also sustained numerous lacerations and fractures, the coroner said.

A report of Trooper E. A. Zebonis listed the operator of the sedan as Herman L. Asam, 69, of Watson Hollow Road, who was westbound on the highway west of Route 28A in the Town of Olive, when the car went out of control on a sharp left curve and traveled 66 feet before overturning in a ditch.

Ida Blume was ejected from the vehicle as it rolled over. Others injured were Marie Asam, 62, wife of the driver, who sustained internal injuries and multiple contusions and abrasions of the body; Frank Stalzer, 69, of Brooklyn, a passenger, who received multiple body contusions, and his wife, Rose, 70, who suffered fractured ribs and other injuries. Asam also suffered cuts and bruises. The injured were all taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctors Ambulance. Authorities said none of the occupants of the car were using seat belts.

Meanwhile, Kingston police reported three young men were injured at 3:40 a.m. Sunday when the car in which they were riding went out of control and hit two parked cars on Delaware Avenue.

Police arrested George Williams, 21, of 134 Third Avenue, Kingston, the driver on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was driving the vehicle when it slammed into two parked vehicles owned by Elizabeth Tetrow of 629 Delaware Avenue.

Williams sustained lacerations of the mouth. Passengers were Francis Ross Carey, 17, of 36 McEntee Street, who received injuries of his nose and knees, and Paul Barber, 22, of 271 Hasbrouck Avenue, who suffered injuries of the face and forehead. The injured were taken to Benedictine Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance.

Three women were injured at 2:30 p.m. Saturday when the cars in which they were riding collided on Route 299 in the Town of New Paltz. Taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance were Mrs. Eleanor Nachtmann, 60, of New Paltz, Betty Nickerson of Hopewell Junction, and Miss Jan Dinning, Wappingers Falls. Details of the mishap were not available.

Truman Joins List Opposing Europe Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials, bolstered by some of the most remembered names in Democratic annals, are claiming victory in a hurried campaign to quash Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield's attempt to legislate a 50 per cent cut of U.S. troops levels in Europe.

Clark McGregor, President Nixon's chief lobbyist, declared Sunday "We have no doubt we'll win" when the Senate votes Wednesday.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers also predicted failure for the Mansfield amendment, which seeks to reduce the U.S. garrison in NATO countries to 150,000. Rogers denounced the proposal as potentially "disastrous to our foreign policy."

Meanwhile, Nixon announced in Florida that former President Harry S. Truman had joined the array of past Democratic government officials, including Lyndon B. Johnson, who have rallied to his position.

Truman was quoted in a statement relayed by his former Secretary of State Dean Acheson that he "agrees entirely" with Nixon's assertion Saturday that such a cutback "would be an error of historic dimension."

Acheson, a prime mover in the early years of the NATO alliance, has headed a drive launched at the White House only last Thursday which so far has enlisted the public support of at least two dozen high officials of the Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Mansfield has refused to yield, although he acknowledged over the weekend "I am beginning to feel like the fellow who only has a sling shot." He added, however, "I was not surprised at the resurrection of the Old Guard," a reference to the former NATO commanders, U.S. diplomats and politicians backing the President.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a frequent foreign policy ally of Mansfield's, announced Sunday he has put off an Asian trip to vote against the majority leader.

"It is my judgment that should the Mansfield amendment pass, the outcome of the vote would be exactly contrary to what Sen. Mansfield contemplates—that is, Europe would fall apart and lean toward the Soviet Union, rather than come together and replace the forces withdrawn by the United States," Javits said.

Many Unsolved Issues

Lawmakers in Adjournment Drive

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—A list of issues from abortion to Yankee Stadium remain unresolved as the 1971 legislature returned to the Capitol today to begin its weeklong drive to adjournment.

Leaders of both parties worked behind-the-scenes during the weekend trying to get preliminary agreement on how to cut New York City's $890 million tax request package. Once the matter gets down to the bargaining phase, leaders will set up the perennial "summit conferences" with Mayor John V. Lindsay at the governor's mansion to seal the bargain.

Although the dispute threatened to delay adjournment, the leaders were reported hoping to wrap up everything before Saturday, the tentative adjournment date.

(In New York City, Lindsay said he hoped to meet this week with Rockefeller and legislative leaders to resolve the controversy over funding the city's proposed budget.)

For the legislative "back benchers," the 1971 session is already one month longer than last year's. They are anxious to get out of the tax "heat" and back into private businesses and law practices.

"I'm filing for bankruptcy next week," one attorney commented while departing the Capitol for New York City last week.

On the plus side, legislators did substantial work. They cut Governor Rockefeller $8.5 billion budget to $7.7 billion; passed most of the governor's welfare reforms; moved to cut "mandated" costs on localities; and decided to take a long look at increasing pension costs for public employees.

But the list on unresolved issues runs from abortions to Yankee Stadium.

They include:

ABORTIONS: Bill cutting permissible time limit from 24 to 20 weeks awaiting Senate action first; measure outlawing private referral agencies pending in Assembly; attempts to repeal liberal law face gubernatorial opposition.

PAROCHIAL AID: Rockefeller insists estimated $30 million in new aid be tied to higher taxes.

WELFARE: Governor's one-year residency proposal being revised to meet some objections of black and Puerto Rican lawmakers.

ADIRONDACKS: Proposal for new Adirondack Park agency apparently felled by North Country representatives.

OFF-TRACK: Competing plans to expand off-track wagering to other sports or turn up-state betting over to tracks could disqualify each other.

MARIJUANA: Mild reform proposal not given high prospects in Assembly.

CONSUMERS: Bills for unit pricing, drug labelling stalled by industry opposition.

REVENUE SHARING: Will stay reduced unless Assembly Republicans yield anti-tax stand.

NO-FAULT: Reform of auto insurance stalemated among Rockefeller, Senate and Assembly plans.

STEWART: Planned development of Stewart Airfield slowed, even if local opposition melts enough to approve $30 million for land acquisition.

VOTE: Eighteen-year-old vote stalled pending reconciliation of federal amendment with state referendum scheduled for fall.

TRANSIT: $2.5 billion transit bond issue probably set before voters this fall.

BLAINE REPEAL: Roman Catholic lobby uncertain whether to put repeal of amendment barring direct state aid to non-public school to popular vote for Harold L. Fisher to nothing this November.

YANKEE: City bill to buy appointed near the end of the Yankee Stadium for $24 million still in dugout.

$7,500 Cut by School Board

Budget Trimming in Ellenville

ELLENVILLE

A cut of $7,500 more off the Ellenville School budget was approved by the Board of Education recently bringing the total cuts in the original $3.7 million budget to $56,400.

Voters will go to the polls for the second time, Tuesday June 8 from noon to 8 p.m. to vote on the revised budget of $3,649,875.

The budget will be submitted to the voters as a whole rather than permitting individual items to be voted upon.

Earlier this week the board trimmed $48,900 from the original budget which was defeated in an election earlier this month. Thursday night's cuts included $4,000 from the text book budget which called for enrichment materials, $1,500 from maintenance, $400 for teacher's in-service, $200 from the treasurer's salary, $400 from in-service for high and elementary principals and $1,000 from commencement and extra assembly budgets.

In making its final decision on budget cuts the board said that while it feels an obligation to the taxpayers, it also feels an obligation to the students, according to Business Manager Sol Sashin.

Michael Kossar, president of the Student Council appeared at the meeting stating that as the board cuts into the budget, it is cutting into youth.

If the second budget fails to pass, the board may be forced to face the prospect of an austerity budget which does not have to be submitted to the voters for approval. Under such a budget the following items may be excluded: fees for evaluation and survey, use of the school building by outside organizations, capital expenditures, transportation and maintenance of interscholastic teams, the operation of the cafeteria and the supplying of textbooks to elementary school children (they would have to rent them), and the purchase of new library books. Also, the transportation of K-8 students closer than two miles and high school students, closer than three miles.

Comptroller Levitt Criticizes Conditions on L. I. Railroad

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—For the second time in as many weeks, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt has issued a report critical of the Long Island Railroad.

Levitt, in discussing an audit concerning the LIR Sunday night, said the line could erase $9 million from its projected 1971 deficit by cutting down on the number of free riders and by improving labor productivity.

The auditors reported finding "many weaknesses in the preparation and review of the budget," in which the LIR predicts a 1971 deficit of $45 million.

"Assuming more favorable conditions and certain operating decisions that might conserve cash," the auditors said, "the net cash deficit might be reduced to about $36 million for the year."

The report found that passenger volume was overestimated, overtime charges were underestimated, and pension costs were calculated $3 million too high.

The report said no "concerted efforts" to improve labor productivity were found, and there was "no evidence of the impact of improved fare collection procedures."

It estimated the number of riders whose tickets go unchecked at 600,000 per month, as of July, 1970.

A spokesman for the LIR, Hank Boerner, said the railroad has been working "constructively" to improve conditions and alleviate the problems for many months.

"In reference to the ticket loss," Boerner said, "we figure a loss of about $10 million. We have put on a special squad and are making arrests of persons using voided or fraudulent tickets."

"To reduce this deficit," Boerner added, "We're trying to get more riders and collect every dime due us."

Considering the state's continued subsidy of the line, Levitt urged the MTA provide the governor and the legislature with a five-year financial plan to project future costs.

The report also listed the salaries of MTA officers, including Ronan, who is also chairman of the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority and head of the New York City Transit Authority.

Beside Ronan's $70,000 a year

MTA salary, the auditors said he "is furnished the services of two chauffeurs by MTA, two bodyguards by the NYCTA, and a car by either Triborough or the NYCTA."

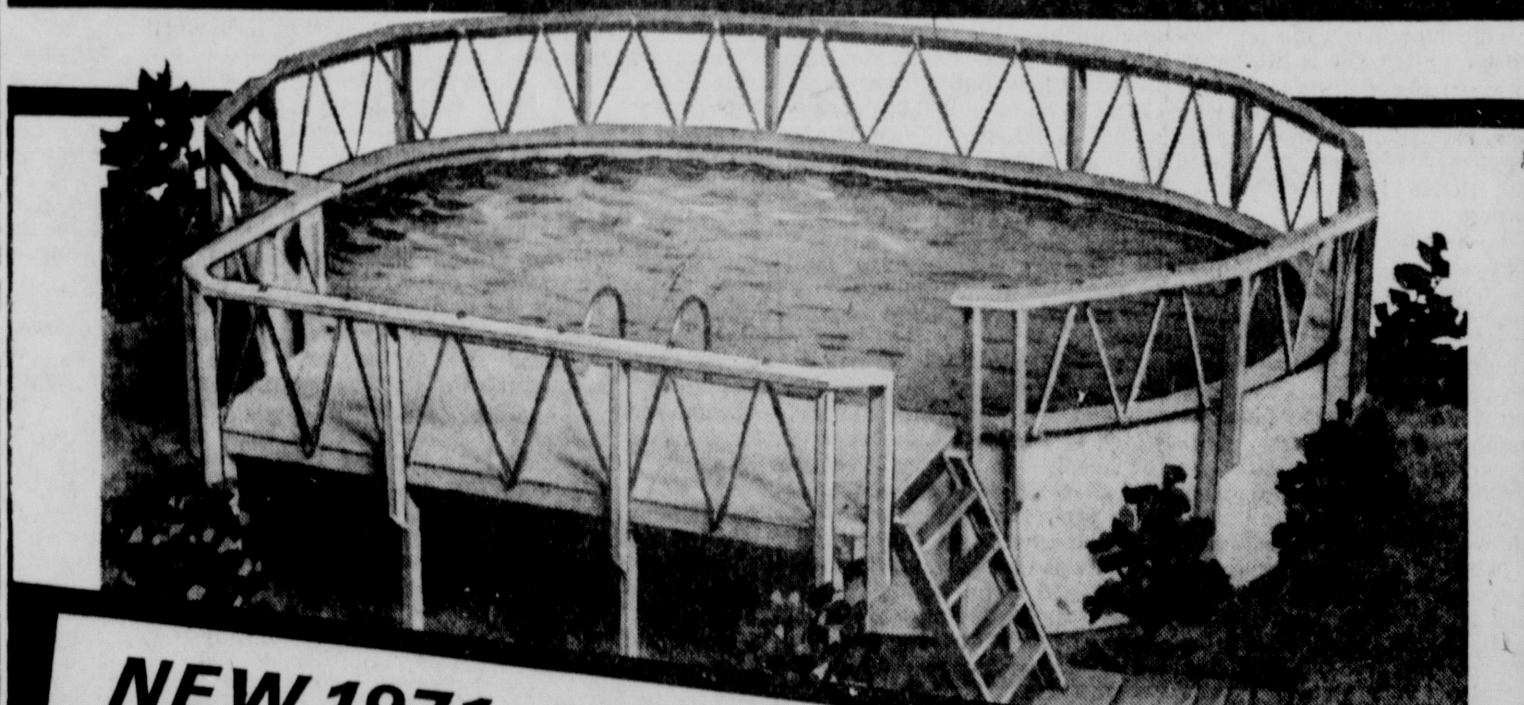

The 10 members of the MTA board are paid $150 per working day. In 1970, their reimbursement ranged from $9,150 for Leonard Braun and $9,000 for Harold L. Fisher to nothing this November.

Slight Drop In Business During March

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—The index of business activity compiled by the State Commerce Department showed a slight drop during the month of March, a spokesman for the department said Saturday.

The March level was 139, based on a 1957-58 level of 100. It was a drop of one point from February and a decrease of four points from March of 1970.

Business activity indexes for the Syracuse and Utica - Rome areas each advanced one point in March. Among other upstate areas, Albany-Schenectady-Troy, Buffalo, and Rochester held steady over the month. The New York Metropolitan area fell one point from February levels.

Total employment in the state reached 7,850,000 in March, 45,000 more than in February, but still 100,000 less than that of the previous March.

The jobless figures dropped 10,000 from February. At 470,000 in March, this was still 140,000 higher than in March, 1970. The rates were 5.6 per cent for March, compared with 5.8 per cent for February, and 4 per cent for March, 1970.

34th Annual Convention

LWV Supports 18-Year-Old Vote

SARATOGA SPRINGS of the 34th Annual Convention of the League of Women Voters, which attracted 324 delegates from the 94 chapters in New York State, including the four chapters located in Ulster County.

Not wishing the Legislature to delay its decision on ratification until after the results of the elections, the action came at the close of the convention.

lowering the voting age are known, the convention directed its president, Mrs. George Ames, to send telegram to legislative leaders calling for immediate action.

In another unprecedented action, each delegate to the convention wrote a letter to Governor Rockefeller urging him to use his influence to allow the state to assume financial support of the court system. A coalition of Bar Associations, organized labor, citizen's and church groups are cooperating in the League's efforts to achieve a statewide judicial budget.

The Convention adopted a state level program for the next two years which includes: a study and evaluation of fiscal policies in New York State as a basis for financing education; support of measures to protect, extend and encourage the use of the franchise, including the use of the absentee ballot in primary elections; support of a unified, statewide court system with adequate provisions for judicial selection and tenure and support of standards to insure equitable representation in the State Legislature and Congress.

Attending the convention from Ulster County were Mrs. Stanley Plasker, Kingston; Mrs. Tennant, Woodstock; Mrs. Phillip DuMoulin, Kingston; Mrs. Anthony Quaranda, Woodstock; Mrs. Charles Steele, Saugerties and Mrs. Walsh, New Paltz.

FAREWELL TESTIMONIAL — A testimonial dinner was held honoring the Rev. Daniel J. Croston of St. Peter's Church Sunday at the school hall. Father Croston has been assigned to Our Lady of Star of the Sea Church at Staten Island. Presenting a purse to Father Croston is Joseph Mikesch (L) — master of ceremonies. The Rev. Msgr. F. P. Brennan, pastor of St. Peter's Church is at right. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Superintendent Supports Findings In Onteora Teacher Dispute

BOICEVILLE, between the School District and Onteora Teachers Association. Acceptance of the recommendation would result in an increase of $914 in the average teacher's salary in the next school year with the range extending from a minimum of $600 to a maximum of $1,488. The following recommendations were supported by the superintendent: That the base salary be increased from the current $7,200 to $7,600. That the master's degree, bachelor's degree differential be increased from $600 to $700. That the stipend per graduate credit hour be increased from $15 to $17.50 per credit. In order to maintain the integrity of the bargaining table, the superintendent recommended that the Board of Education ratify as board policy all articles mutually agreed upon by the negotiating teams for the Teachers Association and the superintendent. Dr. Marlow also recommended that the board accept the factfinder's report in the area of class size which would result in the creation of a class size committee to make recommendations to the superintendent regarding existing class size and its relationship to the board of education class size policy. He suggested that this committee be composed of 10 members, five of whom would be teachers appointed by OTA. The superintendent further recommended that the factfinder's report relating to insurance and annuities be accepted. This would result in the assumption by the board of group health insurance premiums for professional personnel and their dependents, if this plan is selected in lieu of the statewide plan, which is currently fully paid for by the district. In the area of extra pay for extra duties, Dr. Marlow indicated that the factfinder seemingly disregarded practices in other districts in the Mid-Hudson region. The factfinder's recommendation would increase present salary levels for coaches and other extra curricular sponsors as much as 50 percent. Dr. Marlow indicated that this would appear to be highly unreasonable in one school year and recommended that a salary schedule for co-curricular and extra curricular activities be established which is based upon the mean salary paid to personnel in schools of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council. Superintendent Marlow expressed his concern that a breakdown in negotiations occurred which warranted the recent hearing and indicated his hope that the recommendations made would result in both parties reaching a mutually satisfactory agreement. Board President W. Jack Kahn indicated that the findings of the board would be presented at a special public meeting Thursday, May 27 at 8 p.m. in the central school.

Medicaid Cutbacks Blocked by Courts

Cutbacks in the state's medical assistance program have been temporarily blocked by the federal courts, according to Ulster County Commissioner of Social Services Joseph Fitzsimmons, who explained that the intended Medicaid coverage and eligibility effective May 15 will be delayed until further notice. Fitzsimmons said he received a telegram from State Welfare Commissioner George K. Wyman to the effect that New York State has been ordered by a Federal District Court of the Southern District of New York to suspend enforcement. As a result, all vendors should once again accept the yellow cards from recipients and revert to previous standards for Medicaid services. The new eligibility standards, which were to go into effect today, cutback the income limitation from $5,000 to $4,500. Medical recipients would not have received free of charge such items as drugs, or eyeglasses. They would also have been limited to the service of a qualified physician and to care and treatment, maintenance and nursing service in hospitals, nursing homes and infirmaries. The person who brought the suit to court in Brooklyn contended that the state could not reduce Medicaid without the approval of the U. S. secretary of health, education and welfare.

Debate in Legislature On Publicity Department

By LYNN MULVANEY
KINGSTON
Ulster County Legislature, upon the Legislature to continue its present arrangement with the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce for publicity in the interest of saving money in a time of economic hardship. The board first voted on an amendment offered by Dr. Gerald P. Gorman (D-City) who asked that the contract with the Chamber be extended to the end of 1971. The measure was voted down 24-7. A second amendment, offered by William Davis (D-City) asked that the resolution state that publicity director be appointed by the Legislature on recommendation of the publicity committee instead of being appointed by the chairman of the legislature. It also went down to defeat, 22-9. Much discussion also centered on the resolution offered by all 11 Democratic members of the board asking that the county go on record as favoring the no-fault insurance concept and the adoption of such a law at the state level. Majority Leader Douglas V. Dye (R-Dist. 2) sought to amend the resolution and re-

Letters to Editor

Box 314 A
Ulster Park, N. Y. 12487
April 28, 1971

Dear Editor:

I wish to express my feelings on the subject of the use of welfare by many people who don't really need it. I agree that most who apply for welfare have a real financial problem. But there are a few who apply just so they don't have to work.

I believe that most people have pride and would rather work than lay around doing nothing and let the money roll in. I think the people that misuse this money should have it taken away and made to get a job. Whereas the money could go to someone who really needed it and could use it properly.

Sincerely yours,
JAMES WHITE

Dear Sir:

I am writing to you about the recreation in this city. It's my opinion that there are enough recreational facilities around. I would have to say that there are some parks that are reasonably equipped, but there are few of them. Some of the parks could be improved. If Port Ewen can support their youth in recreational facilities, why can't Kingston support their youth?

I would have to say that there are some kids who did damage the parks a long time ago, but why punish the youth of today for what other kids did.

Yours truly,
JOE CONLIN

Asks Better Example

Editor, The Freeman:

I have noticed that veterans groups are complaining that our youth of today are unpatriotic.

I think that the VFW should take a good look at their organization before complaining about our youth. Maybe, if they set better examples, they would have less to complain about.

I am a mother of a cub scout in Pack 19 sponsored by the VFW in Kingston. I always was under the impression that when an organization sponsored any type of youth group, they would provide a clean, warm hall on the one night a month that the pack meets and that the doors of the hall would be open by 7 p.m. meeting time of the pack so that the young boys could be home at a reasonable hour.

Our scouts of Pack 19 have faithfully attended dock side memorial services of the VFW, put flags on deceased veterans graves for Memorial Day and have marched in parades.

In return, Pack 19 is lucky if someone is at the VFW pack meeting night to open the building for our use. Most of the time, we come into a cold hall.

Last April 29, we waited in the rain until after 7:30 p.m. before someone came to open the hall and then, the person came only after being phoned to please come and open the hall.

If the VFW wants these boys from the Cub Scouts to be good citizens who will want to support and fight for their country, will be developed; the rest will be kept in the "forever wild" state. Isn't this type of development more in keeping with the preservation of the Woodstock countryside than a possible home building development, for example?

I do hope that the Town of Woodstock lets this group go ahead with the development of the park.

Sincerely,
MRS. ALFRED PORT

Zena Recreational Park

Editor, The Freeman:

We live in Zena and no one has ever asked us to join the Zena Area Home Owners Association or the Zena Recreational Park or any such thing. Last week we saw an ad for this Park and read an article in the paper that said it was for the community. The ad invited anybody to join. Anybody with $350, that is. And you didn't have to live in Woodstock or Zena.

Well, it isn't for us. We don't want to join even if we were asked, and we don't think it's for the benefit of anybody here to have this private club right where we live. We agree that everybody needs some recreation, but this isn't for everybody. We would like to see the Woodstock Rec Field expanded, and we're looking forward to the Ken Wilson Park. Those are for everybody. And if the town wants to arrange for more facilities which are for everybody and which can be properly controlled, let's all join in the plan and support what can be done. In the meantime, this Park sounds as though it's going to be a nuisance and not a recreation at all for the rest of us.

Sincerely,
MARGARET O'ROURKE

Favors Park Development

Editor, The Freeman:

As an unmarried homeowner of the Zena area of Woodstock, I would like to express my feeling that the proposed private recreation park in our neighborhood will benefit our community. Yes, it is a private organization. But the membership is open, that is, anyone in the Woodstock, Saugerties, or Hurley areas is eligible to join. The membership is limited to 300 families, which should prevent overcrowding of the facilities. However, in spite of the limited membership, the association has assured the community that, with the exception of the pool and tennis courts, the park will be open to non-members, both children and adults, in the neighborhood.

There is another consideration. Because the Town of Woodstock will not be able to provide this type of park without further increasing our taxes, the Zena Recreation Park should lessen the pressure on the present public facilities.

Conservationists are concerned with the proper use of land. The plans for the park seem to take care that the land will be used properly. A very small portion of the acreage selected communities across the nation. Here are the choices of the 553 persons in the survey, who called themselves Democrats and who indicated that they registered to vote:

Choices of Democrats — Registered Voters —
Kennedy 29%
Muskie 21
Humphrey 18
McGovern 5
Lindsay 4
McCarthy 3
Mansfield 2
Jackson 2
Proxmire 2
Mills 1
Hughes 1
Fulbright 1
Bayh 1
Others 5
No opinion 5

A comparison of the results using this list of 13 names with a shorter list of six names used shows that Kennedy has made gains despite the wider field. Muskie and Humphrey each score somewhat lower in the current survey. Since the earlier survey was based on a smaller list, this does not necessarily mean that Muskie and Humphrey have lost strength.

Here is the March, 1971, list for comparison, based on the choices of rank-and-file Democrats:

Choices of Democrats — Registered Voters —
March, 1971
Muskie 26%
Kennedy 25
Humphrey 21
McGovern 5
Lindsay 5
McCarthy 4
Others, no preference 14

Views of Independents — Important

The candidate preferences of "Independents" are also important because in many states a person with no registered party allegiance may vote in either a Democratic or Republican primary election.

Following are the choices of the 327 independents (registered to vote) who were interviewed in the survey. As the table shows, Muskie holds a slim lead over Kennedy and the rest of the field among this group:

Choices of Independents — Registered Voters —
Muskie 19%
Kennedy 15
Humphrey 10
McGovern 8
Lindsay 6
McCarthy 5
Jackson 3
Bayh 2
Fulbright 2
Mansfield 2
Mills 2
Hughes 1
Others 15
No opinion 8

For comparative purposes, the March, 1971 results, based on the choices of Independents, appear below. Among Independents, the same trend has occurred with the expanded field of candidates. Muskie has lost strength, while Kennedy has maintained his support.

Choices of Independents — 8 Registered Voters —
March, 1971
Muskie 31%
Kennedy 13
Lindsay 11
McCarthy 9
Humphrey 8
McGovern 7
Others, no preference 21

Champ Toper
AKOKA, Japan (UPI)—Shigeru Kawamura, 31, won Akoka's annual speed drinking contest Sunday by drinking nearly half a gallon of rice wine in 19 seconds.

Kawamura, a factory worker, competed against seven men and one woman before 1,500 spectators. He consumed one shō of sake so fast that he beat the record set last year by seven seconds. One shō equals .469 gallons.

War. Then many of those were merely veterans of the Anti Vietnam War movement. Of course the respectable veterans were unable to march on Washington because they were busy home trying to earn a living, something that rabble in toy arms should have been doing.

They say they are opposed to the Vietnam War because it is immoral. Some reason, all wars are immoral. I understand some of them would favor our sending troops to aid Israel.

They oppose the atrocities committed by our forces. Why don't they demonstrate against Hanoi? The scattered incidents committed by American forces, such as My Lai are a drop in the bucket compared to those committed by the North Vietnamese troops. Do these anti-war demonstrators condone the systematic mass butchering of all Anti-communist Civilians by the Communist aggressors? Remember the 1968 Tet Offensive!

They say they are non-violent, peace loving people demanding freedom. They have so much freedom in this country they have forgotten what freedom really is. If they are non-violent and peace loving, why do they use violent and guerrilla war tactics to demonstrate their opinions? If they want freedom, why do many of their leaders advocate systems that would eliminate all the freedoms we have in this country?

They call our policemen "pigs" a name they should use to identify themselves. Not only do many of them look like pigs but they act like pigs. Have you ever seen a policeman frolicking in the mud? Some of the peace loving demonstrators in Washington apparently love to. I really feel sorry for them. Apparently their parents failed to inform them of the custom to bath in soap and water, not mud.

These uninformed demonstrators who do not know the meaning of personal hygiene apparently are just as hypocritical as some of our politicians. Their do as I say and not as I do front means look out if they ever get any control. It is quite odd that the Liberal Politicians who advocate policies similar to those of the demonstrators actually caused the problems the demonstrators are against. Yet, who gets the blame? The more Conservative minded elements of our society who have not had control of the government for over 30 years. The moderates do get some of the blame but they deserve it for going along with the Liberals far to often, thus helping to create the problems.

I wonder what these "Radical Liberals" as our honorable Vice-President called them would use for a cause to demonstrate if the Vietnam War ended tomorrow. I am sure it would be something unrealistic or impractical.

For God and Country, I remain.

Kennedy Emerging as Front Runner for 1972 Nomination

By GEORGE GALLUP

PRINCETON, N. J.—Despite the fact that Senator Edward Kennedy has disclaimed any interest in seeking the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination, he may still become the candidate to beat for the Democratic nomination next year.

According to the latest Gallup survey of rank-and-file Democrats, Kennedy is the first choice of 29 per cent of Democrats nationwide. His lead is eight points over his nearest rival, Sen. Edmund Muskie. Running a close third with 18 per cent is Sen. Hubert Humphrey. Ten other possibilities, including the only announced candidate to date, Sen. George McGovern, are grouped far back of the front runners.

1,599 Adults Interviewed
In conducting this survey, which simulates a nationwide preferential primary, Gallup interviewed showed respondents a card listing 13 men who have figured prominently in the speculation over the 1972 presidential nomination. The respondents were then asked the following question:

"Which ONE of the men in this list would you like to see nominated as the Democratic candidate for President in 1972?"

Interviewing was completed April 25 with 1,599 respondents in more than 300 scientifically

Briefings Stopped
LONG BINH, Vietnam (UPI)—The U.S. Army's Third Regional Assistance Command (TRAC) said today it has discontinued its monthly back-ground briefings for newsmen.

Maj. George E. Martin, information officer, said the step was being taken because of declining interest in the briefings, which were trimmed from twice monthly to once a month last fall.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 17, 1971

Cause of Rural Decline

The few states which suffered loss of population in the recent census, or stood still, have found an explanation for their plight. Gov. Richard F. Kneip of South Dakota, which lost 2.1 per cent in the last decade, said the cause is lack of capital which meant that these states have not "shared fully in the opportunities available elsewhere in our nation."

The Governor was testifying before the Senate Rural Development subcommittee in a hearing held at the University of South Dakota. Lack of capital is the primary barrier to reversing the out-migration from his area, he said. It is the complaint of most states, today, that there are not opportunities enough for their young people, who get their education at state expenses and then go elsewhere to use their talents.

More federal financial help and more flexibility in the use of such funds is the answer, Kneip said. He welcomed suggestions of the committee that loans will be provided for farmers and ranchers to develop a fair and equitable share of the wealth of this nation. Other states, which are not so dependent on agriculture, can use federal funds for industrial development, which will provide jobs for their people and keep them at home.

If Congress is serious about helping to reverse the out-migration from rural to urban areas, such measures should be funded and encouraged.

Bottle(d) Up

Last year, about 70 different laws banning no-deposit, no-return bottles, a prime culprit in environmental pollution, were debated among various local, state and federal bodies. At least one community has banned non-returnables and many others are thinking about it.

New York City is considering imposing a two-cent deposit not only on glass but on metal and plastic containers. A Cleveland, Ohio, councilman has introduced an ordinance that would prohibit the sale of beverages in nonreturnable containers. Violators would face fines up to $1,000 and five days in jail.

The trend is beginning to alarm two big companies—Monsanto Company of St. Louis and Vistron chemical and plastics subsidiary of Standard Oil of Ohio. The reason is simple: They have invested millions in developing processes and building plants for the production of a new plastic bottle for the beverage industry.

Soft drink companies have already started testing the new bottles and market research shows favorable customer acceptance.

The companies insist that their plastic will help alleviate the solid waste disposal problem. The bottles are one-eighth as heavy as glass, have long shelf life, bounce when dropped and burn to fine ash. When incinerated, they give off the same pollutants as paper, say the makers.

In the battle against pollution, the enforcement of hastily devised laws may be as bad as the nonenforcement of sound laws. This could be such a case.

Unions and students met this time in the Teamsters' Hall in St. Louis, in another attempt to form an alliance for liberal aims. But the meeting got nowhere. Ron Gushleff, chief shop steward of Teamster Local 658, said that the majority of the workers are moderate or right of center and would oppose such proposals as socialist-radical students make. It was another case of not being able to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

As chairman of the Senate Armed Forces Committee, John Stennis of Mississippi has access to classified information. His warning: that if too many troops are withdrawn too soon, it might leave remaining American troops unprotected. His word of danger has the ring of authority.

David Lawrence Says Would Nuclear Power Be Used for Ground Forces?

WASHINGTON — Proposals in Congress that American forces in Europe for the protection of members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization should be reduced by 50 per cent are resulting in much concern about such a plan.

In some of the western European countries, it is being suggested that the United States hereafter may be expected to rely on its nuclear deterrent to prevent any aggression by the Soviet Union. The general impression is that the United States can hardly leave NATO undefended and in an emergency would have to employ its nuclear strength.

The withdrawal of a considerable number of ground troops by the United States is occasioning a good deal of discussion both here and abroad, and it is significant that there has been a recurrence of talk about nuclear power as a substitute for conventional forces. This certainly was not intended by the sponsors of the Legislation in Congress, who have been merely concerned with curtailing military expenses abroad.

The supreme allied commander in Europe, General Andrew J. Goodpastor, left SHAPE headquarters Thursday to come to the United States for what are described as urgent consultations about the plan for American troop withdrawals from Europe. He said that the proposals by Senator Mansfield are a threat to both NATO and the future peace and security of the United States. He added:

"Proposals for unilateral reductions of forces amount to proposals for the destruction of NATO and of the deterrence and defense it provides. It will degrade the deterrent that ensures the state of peace that we have enjoyed here in Europe."

It was emphasized at the headquarters abroad that the urgency of the consultations in the United States was underlined by the fact that General Goodpastor left in the middle of the annual SHAPE exercise.

The American commitment to protect the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is explicit, and they have relied upon the United States to carry out its pledge. The Western European nations are unlikely to be able to replace the American troops which are withdrawn. This means that the Soviets will be able to exert greater pressure than they have before. Not only can they threaten the Western countries, but they can take more extreme measures in Eastern Europe and run far less risk of encountering any interference from the West.

What it amounts to is that a new situation will be developing. The Soviet Union will virtually dominate Europe.

Congress, therefore, has a critical decision to make. Will it say, in effect, to the Russians that if they attack a member of NATO, American nuclear power will be used to defend our allies? It has been assumed that the United States and the Soviet Union were approaching a time when they could limit arms and perhaps apply restraints to the use of nuclear weapons. But if conventional forces are to be withdrawn which hitherto were required for defensive purpose, the way is opened again to the dangers of a nuclear war.

Stanley Resor, Secretary of the Army, states the American position as follows:

"Our forces are not in Europe to protect Europeans who are unable or unwilling to defend themselves. They are there to assure our own stability. They are necessary today than ever before. To weaken NATO would destroy the present stability and tempt the Soviets to pressure an adventurism which they now shy away from."

Mr. Resor also declares that the cost of our European deployments "is well within our capabilities and has been greatly exaggerated by some critics."

The North Atlantic Treaty — which was signed in 1949 by the United States, Canada and ten western European nations, and since joined by three others — says specifically that "an armed attack against one or more of them in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against them all."

None of the other members has the economic strength to maintain such a large force as the United States has kept in Europe over the years. If only a small force is contributed by the United States, the defense of Europe will be less secure. The possibility of confrontations, particularly as between East and West Germany, may create situations that would have never been initiated if balanced conventional forces had been retained. If nuclear warfare is the only alternative, acts of aggression against NATO members may ensue, as the Russians may think that the United States would not use nuclear weapons.

A MAN AIN'T GOT A CHANCE

To my knowledge, no woman has been charged with rape, although I cannot understand why. Their methods may be more subtle and coy, but the — excuse the expression — end result is the same.

Under the law, morals cases are sometimes loaded against the male. It is difficult to find any public-spirited citizen who doesn't believe the man is guilty before he is tried. Some men are. And some are serving long terms of celibacy for crime called coercive rape. Words like "vile" and "heast" and "animal" are used freely.

I think of cartoonist Al Capp. I am a fan of his cartoons, but not his bucket-sized mouth. For a number of years, he has been appearing on couch shows glibly settling the problems of the world and, lately, has taken to telling college kids — for a suitable fee — what it's all about.

A married, 20-year-old coed at Eau Claire State University in Wisconsin charges Mr. Capp with attempted adultery, sodomy and indecent exposure. In time, and at a public trial, the truth will come out. If the jolly man with the wooden leg is guilty, he may go to prison. Anyone who forces another into such acts should be given sufficient time for medical treatment and a revision of moral standards.

If it happened to one of my daughters, I would peel the man's face off with my bare hands. However, if he isn't guilty, how many of us are going to believe it? You know what the public reaction will be? "Well, he sure got away with it that time."

Some years ago, I covered a rape trial in Tallahassee in which four white boys were accused of raping a black girl. In the South, this was a "reverse" situation, and my newspaper syndicate thought it would be a good idea to cover it to see if justice was properly color blind. It was. All four were sent to Raiford Prison for life. One boy was 14. From the testimony, I still cannot believe that he did any more than stand and watch and, later, brag.

Nan Britton made money writing a book which claimed that President Warren G. Harding was the father of her child. It was written, of course, after he died in San Francisco and no one ever heard the other side of the story — if, indeed there was one.

In another book, he was charged with having illicit relations with girls in White House closets. All these years I've been wondering what those empty hangers are doing in there.

Take my word for one thing without prejudice of Capp's case, there is an animal called the predatory female. She takes dead aim on "names" — politicians, actors, writers. It is she who knocks timidly on your hotel door and wants to know, in spite of the late hour, if she can come in and ask you a few questions. Her plan of attack leads, by easy stages, to the bedroom.

If the man says: "No. Get out," she often threatens to scream and tear her clothes.

No matter what the situation, who is going to believe him? No-o-body. Who believes that Ted Kennedy accidentally took a wrong turn at Chapquidick?

Theodore Dreiser, who wrote "An American Tragedy" and "Sister Carrie," went to Harlan, Kentucky, one time to help miners fight for better wages. At his hotel, a girl went into his room. Law enforcement officers placed a clock outside his door and stood four matches against the bottom of the door. They made pictures all night. The matches were still standing in the morning. Dreiser never lived it down.

I was in Havana with a well-known TV personality when Castro came into town in a tank. In the evening, two Cuban girls knocked on the door. They were dark and pretty. "A friend sent us," one said. I asked what for. "To be friendly," they said. My friend said: "Get rid of them." I said: "No, you get rid of them." "Please," he said. "I find it difficult to say no." "That," I said, also happens to be their problem. The girls left, calling us untranslatable names in Spanish.

There have been cities where I lectured at colleges and, out of the mob, I could usually spot the two or three who would want a little more than an autograph. I'm no sex symbol, but, if they will follow me to a hotel, they will follow Mickey Mouse.

The ladies are not always without guilt. That's the point. That is also the reason why I take my beautiful warden with me wherever I go. . .

Navy Blows Billion Dollars On Chopper Flight Decks

WASHINGTON — The Navy is stuck with defective flight decks and other faulty helicopter facilities on more than 150 of its ships. The 740 drone helicopters built for the ships have either crashed, been crated and stored or otherwise retired from their anti-submarine work.

In the process, the Navy has squandered almost $1 billion in public funds. The admirals have hidden the magnitude of this loss from Congress and the nation. Even more outrageous, the Navy is still building the faulty gear into its newest, proudest destroyers.

The drone choppers explained privately to my associate, Les Whitten, that barnacle-encrusted admirals had insisted on building the ships' platforms without ever being sure that the drones would work. When the unmanned choppers flopped into the sea, the admirals kept building more platforms in the hope that a new helicopter, or a heavier chopper will work. In either case, the old DASH facilities would have to be modified at extra cost to the taxpayer.

Officially, the Navy told us that the cost of the debacle was way below $1 billion. But it acknowledged that 386 of the drones had been lost, mostly through crashes. The rest have been mothballed at ever more expense to the U.S. Treasury, or pressed into makeshift limited duties.

"Maybe," said one Navy page document.

In it, Buikley sizzled on discovering an "uncertified helo platform" on the USS Knox, one of a spanking new group of destroyers. He also turned up a "useless" hangar and JP5 fueling system.

"DASH . . . platform can only be used as a Vert Rep pick up," he growled, meaning that choppers can hover to pick up or drop supplies, but cannot safely land on the platforms. The Admiral wrote that the Navy, not the contractors, were to blame. "Government Responsible" was his terse judgment on the goof.

We checked other Navy ships to find out whether the long-defunct DASH system had been built into them. We found more than 150 ships with bum platforms, faulty hangars, and useless control rooms.

The ships equipped to handle worthless drones, according to another internal Navy document, reads like a "Who's Who in the U.S. Fleet."

Among these are the destroyer USS J. P. Kennedy, the vaunted nuclear destroyer USS Truxton and even destroyer tenders like the USS Dixie. Some had been modernized with DASH platforms at huge expense long after the program was officially declared a flop.

Shamefaced Navy experts explained privately to my associate, Les Whitten, that barnacle-encrusted admirals had insisted on building the ships' platforms without ever being sure that the drones would work. When the unmanned choppers flopped into the sea, the admirals kept building more platforms in the hope that a new helicopter, or a heavier chopper will work. Kennedy Spotlights Country's Present Health Care Issue

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

CLEVELAND (NEA) — A man emerged from the jam-packed room where a traveling Senate subcommittee had just finished taking 2½ hours' testimony on health care problems. Said he:

"Senator Kennedy was putting on a public relations show in there."

Exactly. That's the purpose of holding field hearings in a dozen U.S. cities, coast to coast. To highlight and dramatize the burdensome costs and often tragic consequences of the country's present health care system. And to build wide public support for some kind of health insurance to deal sweepingly with these difficulties.

Ted Kennedy, subcommittee chairman, is, of course, the lead dog. There were two other senators there—Robert Taft of Ohio and Robert Packwood of Oregon. But would anyone like to argue that television cameras would have followed THEM around a hospital at midnight? Or that they would have filled a hearing room to the walls and captured headlines?

Kennedy means it when he says he is not a 1972 presidential candidate. But he also says candidly that he does not mind being mentioned, for the simple reason that it adds materially to the leverage he can apply to the causes he is pushing. Health insurance tops his list.

Neither he nor anyone else involved in pressing for better health care can expect to hear much that is new on a "health tour" of the nation. There were eight weeks of hearings in Washington this year and voluminous testimony in earlier inquiries in the previous Congress.

What the witnesses here and elsewhere do is to reinforce notions that already have taken deep root—that health care is outrageously expensive and getting more so every day, that health services in hospitals are often grossly inadequate, that there aren't enough doctors and nurses, that the poor usually get by far the worst of it.

The specifics here in Cleveland are individual to the city and its people, and yet very much like things heard in other places.

Hospital emergency rooms and outpatient clinics are today the great gathering places for many of the physically distressed. For the poor in the inner city, there is nowhere else to go, since doctors more and more shun the poverty neighborhoods.

A doctor at Cleveland Metropolitan General tells Kennedy that people in the outpatient area may wait from three to eight hours for attention. The average wait is three to four hours. Because doctors are too few, he frequently works until 2 a.m. or later.

Black mothers bringing their tiny babies to a hospital for a check-up find no waiting room, and sit with their infants on a line of benches along a narrow corridor.

Costs? A man testifies before the subcommittee that his wife, suffering a cardiac arrest and then giving premature birth to a child, accumulated hospital and other charges totaling $20,000.

An elderly black woman in a wheelchair tells the senators she owed $12,750 after a series of operations for impaired leg circulation. Her husband is ill, too. How will she pay? Says she: "I haven't the faintest idea."

Another man says his wife, diabetic and gripped with a heart seizure, dies in a hospital while awaiting emergency treatment. A lad with acid burns on his legs waits three hours before a doctor sees him.

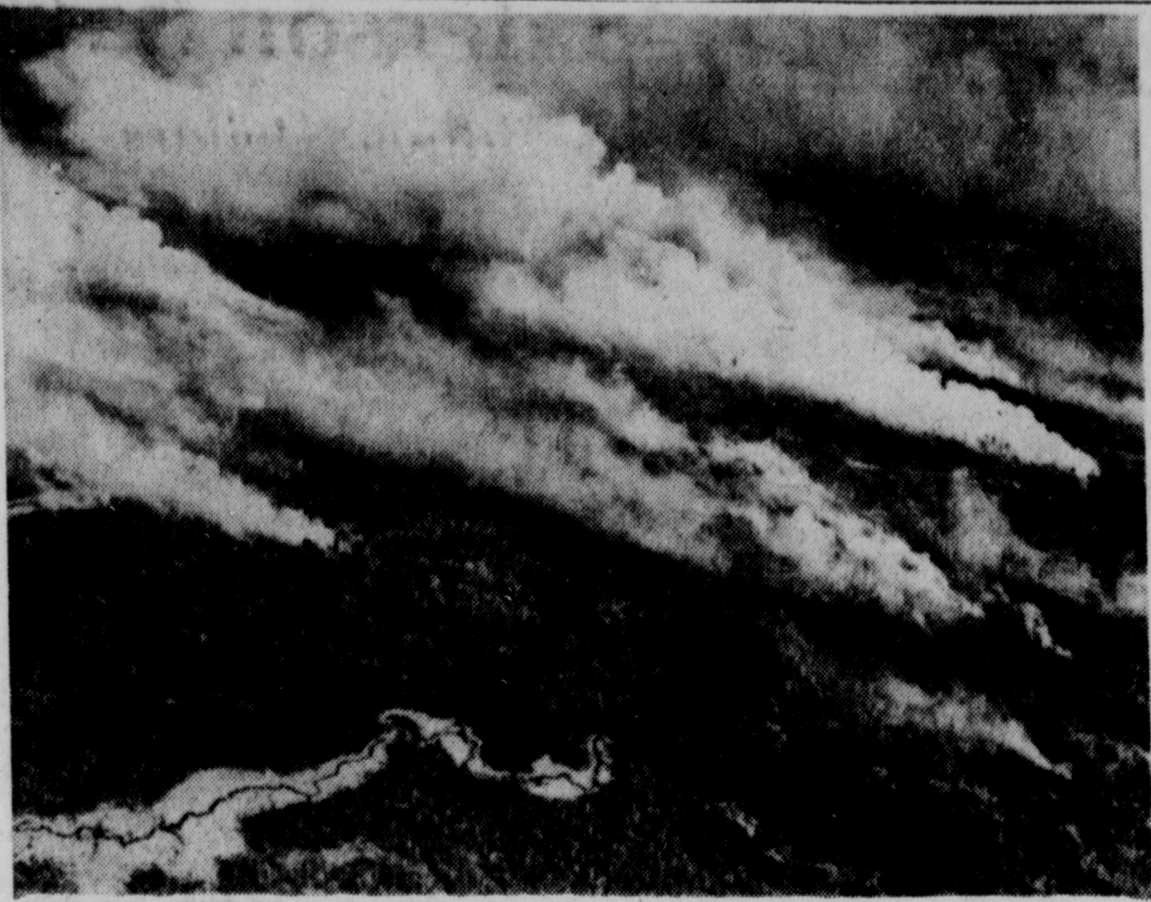

The good hospitals offer more sophisticated, more effective tests and treatment than ever, but these specialties are costly. And, meantime, the hospitals are swamped by tens of thousands who often need far simpler treatment. The load is bankrupting some institutions.

The doctors to ease the burden just aren't there. In California, more doctors die each year than are graduated from school. Some 130 rural U.S. counties and countless city neighborhoods have no physician at all. This great lack magnifies the crisis engulfing health care.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Hey, man, I've got a feelin' we're in the wrong weather-men meeting!"

WORST IN HISTORY — The worst fire in the history of the Lake Superior National Forest, in northeastern Minnesota, continued to rage out of control Sunday. Fire fighters from Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri aided Minnesota foresters and volunteers in backfiring the blaze, which has already consumed an estimated 15,000 acres of timberland. SST and Billion — Not So: Backers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is moving to assure Senate backers of a revived supersonic transport that it really won't cost another billion dollars to get the SST program going again.

The use of the billion-dollar figure by spokesmen for the prime SST contractor, Boeing

Co., was viewed by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield as dimming any prospect his chamber will go along with House action last week and vote to put more funds into SST development.

Battle over the money estimates was the focus of five hours of Senate debate scheduled today. A vote is in prospect early Wednesday evening. Sunday, Clark McGregor, the former Minnesota congressman now the chief White House lobbyist on Capitol Hill, said Boeing Chairman William Allen was wrong in predicting an SST revival could cost as much as $1 billion.

"Should the Senate vote to continue the SST as the House has done, startup costs will be nothing like those publicized as having come from the Boeing chairman," McGregor asserted. McGregor commented on the CBS TV-Radio program "Face the Nation."

In a news conference last week Allen said all SST contracts would have to be renegotiated before any work could begin, probably at a higher cost. He said the scattered SST assembly team would have to be rehired.

These and other expenses would bring the cost for renewing the SST production to no less than $500 million and perhaps as high as $1 billion, Allen said. The aerospace industry, hurt by the refusal of Congress to refund the program two months ago, would now want iron-clad guarantees the project would go forward to completion, he stated.

McGregor cited estimates it would cost some $700 million just to dismantle the SST program compared to no more than $500 million to revive it. No matter what the White House says or what new cost figures may emerge, the damage may have been done.

Democratic leader Mansfield told newsmen he has heard of no senator switching position in favor of the SST. He said "the prospects don't look too good" the Senate will change course.

Quoting Allen, Gary A. Soucie, chairman of The Coalition Against the SST, told senators in a letter they may be voting to spend another billion dollars no matter which of the two Boeing cost estimates prove correct.

If the startup cost is no more than $500 million, Soucie said, it would still cost $478 million to complete the two prototypes, bringing the total to $1,063 billion.

If Allen's higher prediction of a billion-dollar startup cost is realized, the total would run about $1.56 billion, Soucie said. Officially, all that is at stake is the $85 million fund the House converted from a termination fund to a revival fund.

Its use, Mitchell said, would be limited to defendants convicted of a felony within the past 10 years, those charged while free on bail from another charge or on parole or probation from other felonies, and drug addicts.

Ervin charged that in addition to being unconstitutional, preventive detention as Mitchell wants it simply would not be effective in fighting crime.

"I believe the attorney general is of sufficient intelligence to know that trying to fight crime by preventive detention is about as practical as trying to empty the Atlantic Ocean with a quart cup."

Ervin said a Bureau of Standards study made in the District of Columbia over a four-week period in 1968 showed that "only 5 per cent of those people charged are re-arrested within an 18-month period."

"And virtually all who committed crimes while on bail from a different charge did so after 60 days"—the administration's proposed limit for detaining suspects prior to trial.

It subjects people to the dangerous possibility and certainty that multitudes of innocent people will be detained," he said.

Senator Flays The Crime Curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin says the Nixon administration's latest crime control bill is unconstitutional and motivated by politics rather than practicality.

The North Carolina Democrat and constitutional expert said the Nixon administration wants only to "impress on the American people the idea that the Justice Department is concerned about so-called law and order."

"They just want to make it appear to the American people that the Nixon administration is attempting to lock up all the dangerous criminals," the 74-year-old Ervin said in an interview.

The administration bill, sent to Capitol Hill Friday, would allow pretrial without bail for up to 60 days of persons accused in dangerous or organized federal crimes. That feature is among the most controversial in the recently-enacted law covering the District of Columbia.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the measure is designed to "protect the public" and added pretrial detention would not be imposed until "after a hearing with appropriate procedural safeguards."

'Dump President'— Hope to Force a Change

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Liberal Republicans forming a fledgling "Dump Nixon" movement still hope to force a change in the President's policies, but they will not hesitate to campaign against him in '72 if he does not.

Nineteen Republicans from across the country held their first meeting Sunday—a six and one-half-hour session at a private home in Washington. The meeting was called by former Sen. Charles E. Goodell of New York and by Reps. Donald W. Riegle of Michigan and Paul N. McCloskey Jr. of California.

"The views expressed were pretty unanimous that preparations should be made now in the event we have to oppose Nixon in the primaries," said Goodell, who himself was dumped by President Nixon when the administration refused to support him in the last election in a dispute over war policy.

But Goodell said those present still want to describe their attempt as a "move Nixon or change Nixon" effort. He added, however:

"There was no hesitancy in the group that we will be for someone else as an alternative to Nixon, but we hope that won't be necessary."

Goodell said McCloskey addressed the meeting but did not seek support for his own candidacy. McCloskey has expressed his willingness to be a GOP primary candidate. Other potential candidates who were discussed, according to Goodell, included himself, Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay, former Health, Education and Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner, and former Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel.

Four Democratic Senators Give Wisconsin Preview

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Auditioning in a state that could become a crucial political theater next year, four senators have given Wisconsin party leaders a preview performance as prospective contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Wisconsin's share of the casting for that role comes in an April 4 presidential primary. Although the state's top Democrat, Gov. Patrick J. Lucie, said it is simply too early to forecast who will emerge as the front runner, that billing now belongs to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

But Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota already has a campaign organization at work in Wisconsin. Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana is making his contacts and party contributors who heard from the potential candidates seemed interested in seeing more of Sen. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa.

And there will almost certainly be other names on the Wisconsin ballot.

The four senators were the featured attraction at a $100 a plate steak and strawberry shortcake dinner Saturday night. No one emerged as a star. They shared about equally in the applause of an audience Lucie said included party workers crucial to any candidate.

The speeches were standard Democratic fare. Indeed, it seemed at times, the performers could have traded texts without difficulty.

"The men in the Democratic party's repertoire of potential national leaders differ in style and approach and to some degree on the issues," said Hughes. "But on the big moral stands they are united."

Muskie's speech too, was a standard piece, perhaps most notable for his statements that Democrats must strive to "forfeit the war issue by ending the conflict before the 1972 campaign even if that means losing the election."

Bayh came on like an evangelist, gesturing, pointing, dramatically repeating his phrases and at one point smacking the microphone accidentally. "We can ignite a spark of hope in the heart of even the most insignificant soul in the darkest corner of our society," he said at the end. "This I believe and so must we all."

Finally, McGovern stressed the war issue, and his proposed legislation to force U.S. withdrawal by the end of the year. The withdrawal theme was popular. Each man mentioned it and each was applauded for it. Present but silent was Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin who is doing some presidential exploration and could wind up a primary contestant.

Postal Men Try to Justify Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service went to the stand today in an attempt to justify and make permanent the postage increases it already has put into effect temporarily. Postal Service accountants and lawyers were the scheduled leadoff witnesses as the independent Postal Rate Commission opened hearings expected to last into the summer. The hearings mark an historic moment of sorts in the nearly two centuries of the U.S. mails: For the first time since 1792, the price of stamps and other postage will be set not by Congress but outside the political arena. The first mail-cost increases since Congress boosted the cost of first class postage to six cents in 1967 went into effect at midnight Saturday, despite attempts to stop them in U.S.

District Court, the Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court. Surface and airmail stamps now cost eight cents and 11 cents, respectively, and post cards six cents. Airmail cards went up to nine cents. Charges for second and third class postage were increased by 20 to 30 per cent and special delivery rates were increased by one third.

Parcel post was raised an average of 15 per cent last November, and is not involved in the current situation. Under last year's postal reform legislation, which created the corporate-like Postal Service and the independent, five-member Postal Rate Commission, the cost of running the mails must be spread equally and equitably among its users.

According to the law, the rate commission must recommend rates to the Postal Service's board of governors. The governors on Feb. 1 sent the rate commission a proposed, $1.45 billion-a-year rate package, hoping that the commission would like it and recommend it right back. However, the law also requires the commission take testimony and evidence from the mail users who foot the bill and from a special section of the commission that represents the general public.

Some 57 organizations representing big mailers have signed up to be heard, including the Magazine Publishers Association, the American Newspapers Publishers Association and the Direct Mail Advertisers Association.

Benefit Bill Push

WASHINGTON (AP) — An additional increase in general Social Security benefits, effective next year, will be vigorously pushed in Congress, despite the close failure of the first effort in a House committee vote.

The basic benefit for retired persons, their widows and dependents and the disabled was raised 15 per cent in 1970 and an additional 10 per cent this year. But proponents of an increase say the benefits still are not keeping pace with the inflationary increase in the cost of living.

The House Ways and Means Committee, putting together its big welfare-Social Security measure, included provisions meaning larger benefits for widows and a number of special categories of recipients. But it turned down three proposals for raising the basic benefit.

A move by Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., for a 50 per cent increase, went down without a recorded vote. A proposed 7 per cent increase was defeated 13 to 11 and a 5 per cent increase 13 to 12.

In each case several Southern Democrats joined the Republican minority to defeat the increase. Significantly, however, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., voted for both the smaller raises.

If past practice is followed, the House will consider the bill under a rule permitting no amendments. So the next opportunity will come in the Senate, which may not consider the measure until late this year, or even in 1972.

But a proposal for an increase is certain to be made in the Senate, sources said, and is

Community Nursery Slates Expansion

SAUGERTIES school. The proper immunizations for the child must be completed before the school year begins.

The Board of Directors of the Community Nursery School, 173 Main Street, Saugerties, announced that plans are now underway to expand the nursery school to include an afternoon session beginning in September 1971.

The Nursery School now housed in the Dutch Arms Chapel of the Reformed Church of Saugerties will be moved to new quarters in the parish hall of the church. This will make possible the holding of an afternoon session of the school. The afternoon session will be held from 12:15 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. each school day. The Community Nursery School follows the school calendar of the Saugerties Central School System.

A child must be three years of age by September 11, of the school year to enroll in the will teach only the morning session next year. Mrs. Salzmann is a graduate of Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa., with a BA in Elementary Education. She has done graduate work at New Paltz State University. Mrs. Salzmann has taught kindergarten for four years in the Kingston School System and has also taught of remedial reading for two years. She is the mother of four children.

Members of the Board of Directors are: Miss May Evans, chairman; Charles E. Fous, vice-chairman; Mrs. Turner, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. LeRoy Donaldson, Mrs. Michael Fagan, Mrs. Joseph Hemphill, Mrs. Judith Hamann, RN, Mrs. James Richards, Ronald Willing, and three parent members elected each school year. Parent members serving this year are Mrs. M. William Hubler, Mrs. George Turco, and Mrs. Ernest Pick.

Saugerties Area News

Mrs. Steele Heads Women Voter League

SAUGERTIES elected officers and directors, the board of directors is composed of the following: second vice president Mrs. Richard Thorpe; treasurer Mrs. Ernest Blake, who was appointed to fill Mrs. Steele's unexpired term; and directors Mrs. Albert Allen, Mrs. Howard Leach, and Mrs. Jerome Daley.

The League voted to continue its "Study and Evaluation of the System," which is entering its third year. The League will also continue its "Study of County Government," in conjunction with the three other Ulster County Leagues, and will continue to maintain its interest in the "Study of Town and Village Budgets" and its support of the Saugerties Public Library.

Items on the agenda also included the treasurer's annual report, adoption of the budget, selection of a local program, and changes in the by-laws.

Also elected were Mrs. R. William Newman, first vice president; Mrs. Roy Ohno, secretary; and the Mmes. Andersen, and Richard Messina, members of the board of directors.

In addition to the newly

Milliken Addresses Little Sawyer Group

SAUGERTIES Due to the inavailability of the constitution and charter, temporary Chairman James W. Dargan announced that Charter Night would be set for Wednesday, June 16, at 8 p.m. in the meeting room of the Trinity Episcopal Church. The charter will then be signed by all those in attendance, following the approval of the constitution and by-laws. As soon as they can be prepared, copies of the proposed constitution and by-laws will be mailed to all those who have attended the association meetings.

Milliken spoke on his experiences in the restoration of the Enfield Glen Grist Mill and more recently, of his part in the restoration of Perrine's Bridge. He noted the worthiness of the Saugerties Grist Mill restoration in preserving the local heritage, and wished the new Little Sawyer Association much success in their undertaking.

In other business, Dargan appointed a Nominations Committee to present a slate of officers for election at the June 16 meeting. With Mrs. Thomas Zulick serving as chairman, the committee includes Charles Fous, Mrs. William Ashmore, Harold Bennett, and Edward Jabs. A Float Committee was also formed, with Fous as chairman, to prepare a Little Sawyer Association entry in the Jaycees Fourth of July parade.

Molten Lava From Mt. Etna Scorches Houses

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — A moving furnace of molten lava rolled down the side of Mt. Etna toward two mountain villages today, scorching and crushing some farm houses as it went.

The villagers of Sant'Alfio and Fornazzo grew more and more afraid that their homes might be destroyed. Although the lava's present course would take it between the two villages, residents knew that could change at any time.

Paolo Nicolosi, owner of one country house abandoned to the lava, fled to Sant'Alfio and lamented:

"We saved a lot for that beautiful house in order to take our vacations there, and now the fire has destroyed it all. For me everything is finished. I worked many years for what went up in smoke in a few minutes."

The villagers said special prayers that their homes be spared.

Israeli Consul General Is Kidnaping Victim

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI) — Four masked and armed men kidnaped Israeli Consul General Ephraim Elrom when he arrived home for lunch today, police sources said.

The sources said the four men abducted Elrom as he was preparing to enter his home in the center of Istanbul shortly after noon (6 a.m. EDT).

The Israeli Consulate declined to comment on the kidnapping. A spokesman answering calls at the consulate merely said the offices were closed for unspecified reasons.

Military officials in Istanbul, which has been under martial law since last month, would say only that "investigations con-

Water Main Break Near Daily Freeman

KINGSTON — A break in the water main outside The Daily Freeman building on Broadway this morning caused temporary flooding until the Kingston City Water Department arrived on the scene, shut off the main and pumped the water into the storm sewer.

The break occurred while Callanan Road Improvement Company was attempting to hook up the drain back from The Freeman sprinkler system into the storm sewer. In the process of digging the machinery apparently grabbed the main water line causing the breakage.

The Kingston Fire Department Alarm Service stood by as a precautionary measure.

Man Stricken On Thruway

SAUGERTIES — A retired New York City fireman became suddenly ill while driving his car along the State Thruway near this township on Sunday, and later he was pronounced dead on arrival at Kingston Hospital where he was taken by ambulance.

Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson said Angus H. Murphy of New York, was on his way to Buffalo to visit relatives when he was stricken. The coroner gave a finding of death due to natural causes.

According to Chipp, Murphy's car reportedly developed trouble and he stopped. He hailed a passing motorist and told him of his difficulty and requested the man to get assistance. The motorist, not identified, stopped at the Hot Shoppe and reported the incident and later a state trooper found Murphy slumped over the steering wheel of his car.

Tillson Youth Dies Suddenly

KINGSTON — Eighteen-year-old Gary Naccarato of Tillson, admitted to Benedictine Hospital Friday night for "drug de-toxification" died this morning at 7:15, according to hospital authorities.

Naccarato was admitted by his physician, Dr. Emeline Hayward, director of the Ulster County Mental Health Board, and was given measured doses of methadone in an attempt to de-toxify accumulated drugs, according to a hospital spokesman. Naccarato's condition was listed as "fair" throughout the weekend, but the youth reportedly suffered a relapse at 6:45 a.m. today and died about 30 minutes later. An autopsy is expected to be performed.

Drug Abuse Program Listed

KINGSTON — A Narcotic Guidance Council representative will present an informational program on drug abuse problems in the Kingston area at a meeting to be held Wednesday, May 19, at 7:30 p.m. at St. James United Methodist Church, Fair and Pearl Streets.

Guest Speaker will be William Carroll, chairman of the adult education committee of the city's Narcotic Guidance Council. The council was created last year by the Common Council to educate the community in the field of drug abuse.

A film will be shown and Carroll will conduct a panel discussion. The program is open to the public and all interested persons may attend.

Pays $10 Fine On Guilty Plea

BOICEVILLE — Charged with criminal trespassing on property of the Ontario Central School and becoming abusive to faculty members when ordered to leave, James Van Leuven, 18, of Boiceville, pleaded guilty Friday before Town Justice Edwin France.

The youth was fined $10. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Richard Ostrander on a warrant issued by Judge France.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market opened lower in moderately active trading today.

Shortly after the opening, the Dow Jones industrial average was off 1.05 at 933.01. Of the 310 issues crossing the tape, 147 retreated, while 83 gained.

In the steel group, U.S. Steel dipped ¼ to 33½, while Bethlehem and Armco lost ¼ each to 23¼ and 20%, respectively.

White Motors was unchanged at 20½ in its group. Chrysler dipped ¼ to 29½.

In the chemicals, Monsanto surrendered ¼ to 45½. Eastman Kodak was off ¼ to 81½, and Allied Chemical held unchanged at 33½.

Among the oils, Jersey Standard dropped ¼ to 78¼. Texaco was off ½ to 36½, and Standard of California gave up ¼ to 58½.

Area Couples' Weddings Announced to The Daily Freeman

MRS. PAUL W. SEYFARTH
(Lakeside Studio)

Christiana-Seyfarth

The Rev. Gary Mehl, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony of Miss Margaret Christiana and Paul Woodrow Seyfarth on Saturday, May 8 at 3 p.m. at Immanuel Lutheran Church. Charles Brand provided traditional wedding selections.

Miss Christiana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Christiana, Krumville Road, Olivebridge, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Seyfarth, RFD 4, Box 217, Kingston.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore an ivory satin gown. A pearl crown held her illusion veil and she carried a fireside basket of white daisies, pompons and baby's breath.

Miss Susan Lang, fiancée of the bridegroom's brother, Dunnehan Avenue, Kingston, served as maid of honor. She wore a gown of lavender satin and carried a fireside basket of yellow daisies, lavender pompons and ivy.

Miss Linda Markle, cousin of the bride, Stone Ridge; and Miss Susan Seyfarth, sister of the bridegroom, RFD 4, Box 217, Kingston, were attendants. Their mint green and yellow satin gowns, respectively, were fashioned identically to that of the maid of honors and they carried baskets of daisies, pompons and ivy.

Peter F. Seyfarth, RFD 4, Box 217, Kingston, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Kenneth Christiana, brother of the bride, Krumville Road, Olivebridge, and Robert Seyfarth, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception for 100 guests

Mountain House. The bride selected a beige suit for her motor trip north through Lake George.

Mrs. Seyfarth is a 1968 graduate of Rondout Valley High School and attended New York University and Ulster County Community College. Her husband is a graduate of Islip High School, Class of 1966, attended Suffolk County College and UCCU.

The couple will reside in Kingston.

Lynch-Pagerino

Miss Elizabeth Louise Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lynch, 17 South Wall Street, Kingston, became the bride of Joseph Pagerino Jr., Neighborhood Road Apartments, Lake Katrine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pagerino Sr., 4 Walnut Street, Middletown, Conn., on Saturday, May 8 at 1 p.m. at St. Mary's Church, Kingston. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Theodore Riccobono, organist, accompanied Mrs. Virginia Mancuso who sang traditional wedding selections. White gladioli decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected an empire A-line gown of organza with a chapel train. The gown featured a high collared yoked "V" neckline of Alencon lace and the long sheer sleeves were cuffed with lace. A matching lace camelot cap held her tiered illusion veiling and she carried a colonial bouquet of white sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Miss Noreen M. Conlin, cousin of the bride, 35 DuFlon Street, Kingston, was maid of honor. Attendants were Miss E. Jean Hutchinson, Colonial Drive, New Paltz; and Miss Linda J. DiSalvo, 211 Tinker Street, Woodstock. They wore empire A-line gowns of aqua chiffon featuring Schiffli embroidered vest effects. The long sheer sleeves were cuffed with the same embroidery. They wore petal shaped headpieces, trimmed with loops and beaded flowers. The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white sweetheart roses and baby's breath and the bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

The best man was Charles L. Pennypacker, 48 Vincent Street, Kingston. William J. Cassidy, Fair Street, Kingston, and Joseph C. Felece, Glenierie Boulevard, Saugerties, were ushers.

A reception for 170 guests was held at Walnut Grove, Kingston.

The bride wore a red, white and blue flowered dress with red accessories for her wedding journey to St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Pagerino is a 1966 graduate of Kingston High School and a 1968 graduate of Ulster County Community College. She is employed as a secretary by IBM, Kingston. Her husband is a 1963 alumnus of Wilson High School, Middletown, Conn. He received a BBA degree in 1966 from University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind., and a Master of Science degree in accounting from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Mass., in 1967.

Mr. and Mrs. Pagerino will reside at Lake Katrine.

HOSPITAL LIBRARY—Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary announces the opening of a patients and personnel free-lending library at the hospital. The mobile library cart which was established in 1967 has now been expanded to a complete library serving the needs of the patients and staff. Located on the second floor center wing, the library will be open 24 hours a day. The Auxiliary will still provide the mobile cart reaching all the nursing floors for the patients' enjoyment. Introducing patients, Miss Susanna Allhusen and Lewis Leo, to the library is Mrs. Henry C. Eichelmann Jr., library chairman, and Gerald Nocton, assistant administrator. An invitation is extended to all patients, friends and employees of Benedictine Hospital to come and browse and read. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Reception Scheduled

A reception for the new 1971-72 worthy high priestess, Havergal Bub, and watchman of shepherdess, August Bub, is scheduled after the regular business meeting of Judea Shrine No. 12, Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem, Thursday, May 20 at 8 p.m. in Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue.

All officers and members of the White Shrine are invited to attend. A social hour will be held in the dining room.

Annual Fair

The Tuesday Club of Woodstock will hold its annual fair on Dutch Reformed Church lawn on the Village Green, Woodstock, Saturday, May 22 starting at 9 a.m.

Baked goods, new articles, plants, books, jewelry and a miscellaneous table will be featured.

Women of Moose

Kingston Chapter 697, Women of the Moose, will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at 82 Prince Street at which time nomination of officers will take place.

All members are asked to attend.

Rummage Sale

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Saugerties United Methodist Church will sponsor a rummage sale Friday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the new fellowship hall at Washington Avenue and Post Street, Saugerties.

Women's Tea

Saugerties Columbianettes will host women's clubs in Saugerties area at a tea to be held at Knights of Columbus clubhouse, 9W, Saugerties. The event will take place at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 6, during the week proclaimed by Saugerties Mayor Cornelius Cox as Women's Fraternal Week.

President Mrs. Joseph Kramer and chairman, Mrs. Albert Conte, extend an invitation to all women's club presidents and one representative to attend this social event. It is expected that some of the area's most outstanding women will be in attendance. The tea will offer an opportunity for club women to exchange ideas and get to know each other.

Annual Dinner

The Twentieth Century Club will hold its annual dinner at Salvucci's Restaurant in West Hurley on Monday evening, May 24. Mrs. John Pope, program chairman, announced arrangements at the May 10 meeting held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth, Port Ewen.

Mrs. Pope introduced Mrs. W. Dale Swartzmiller who presented an interesting paper on the Rio Grande Valley. The paper covered the agricultural development of the Valley, it having been arid desert country before irrigation made possible by damming the river. The speaker also spoke about the settlement of the Valley, the Mexican-American people which comprise 70 per cent of the population, the problems of migrant workers, rare birds that inhabit the bird sanctuaries, and wild flowers of the area.

Mrs. Warren Russel, president, opened the meeting with a quotation on "Optimism."

50th Anniversary

American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 150 has announced plans are complete for the 50th anniversary banquet and installation of officers for 1971-72. The dinner is scheduled for Tuesday, June 1 at Skytop Restaurant, Kingston.

Reservations should be made by Tuesday, May 25 with Mrs. Edward Scully of 280 Flatbush Avenue or Mrs. William Price, Rock Street, Kingston.

Special recognition will be given at the banquet to charter members of the Unit.

Auxiliary State President Ann Harrington will make her official visit in Stone Ridge on Sunday, June 6. The time will be announced.

At this time of year, the month of May, the memorial flower of the American Legion and its Auxiliary will again give the public an opportunity to help in the work of aiding needy veterans and their families, disabled servicemen and women, as well as paying tribute to all who died in service, by wearing a poppy. Distribution of poppies is under the supervision of Auxiliary members.

GOLDEN YEAR PROGRAM—Mrs. George C. Swart, left, president of Little Gardens Club of Kingston, accepts a "Golden Memories" hemerocallis, a yellow lily blossom, from Mrs. Edward H. Bergles of Rhinebeck in observance of the club's anniversary. Mrs. Bergles, a National Council accredited flower show judge, is an amateur grower of hemerocallis. The program took place Thursday, May 13 at the home of Mrs. William Rylance, West Chestnut Street, Kingston. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Party for Poodles

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

© 1971, by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are the only young couple on our block who have no children, but we have two poodle pups we think the world of.

In a way, those poodles are our "children." We have toys for them, and all the neighborhood kids love to play with the pups.

Our poodles will be a year old soon, and I would like to give a birthday party for them. I would invite the neighborhood kids over for birthday cake and ice cream; and I'd have crazy hats and balloons just like a regular birthday party. I'd even take pictures of it. My question: Do you think people will think we are completely nuts?

CHULA VISTA
DEAR CHULA: No. Just "arf" nuts.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to be married in six weeks. A month ago I telephoned a girl who had been a good friend of mine at college and asked her to be one of my bridesmaids. She accepted. I hadn't seen her for about six months, so I invited her to visit me for a weekend. When she arrived, I was shocked. She is obviously pregnant, and says she'll be starting her eighth month in six weeks from now!

She is not married and has no plans to be. She told me honestly that she had had a "meaningful relationship" with a fellow at college and they broke up. She isn't exactly proud of her condition, but she's not ashamed of it, either. Abby, I still love her and believe me, I am not judging her, but this is a small town and my family and friends would never understand an unmarried but pregnant bridesmaid in my wedding party. I hate to hurt her feelings, but what can I tell her?

BRIDE TO BE

Will Speak at Christian BPW Meeting

Orvil Norman of Kingston Garden Center will provide some gardening answers at the Tuesday, May 18 meeting of Ulster County Christian Business and Professional Women's Council planned for 6:30 p.m. at Holiday Inn. Norman will give tips on planting, relative to methods, selection of flowers and placement in the garden.

Mrs. Rose Quincy, a former Scarsdale resident and mother of five children, will also speak. Mrs. Quincy has had much experience teaching and counselling young people. In view of the interest being focused on youth today, her remarks promise to be stimulating and informative.

Music will be furnished by John Keppenaal and Joseph Loeber of Rhinebeck.

Women of the area are invited to attend. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Fred Brinkman of Kingston.

ORVIL NORMAN

Installation Set for Tuesday

Miss Marian L. Dacey, assistant district director of District Nine, will conduct the installation of new officers of Northern Dutchess Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday, May 18, at Foster's Coach House in Rhinebeck. A social hour is planned for 6:30 p.m. with dinner slated for 7 o'clock. Mrs. C. Dorothy Brooke is chairman.

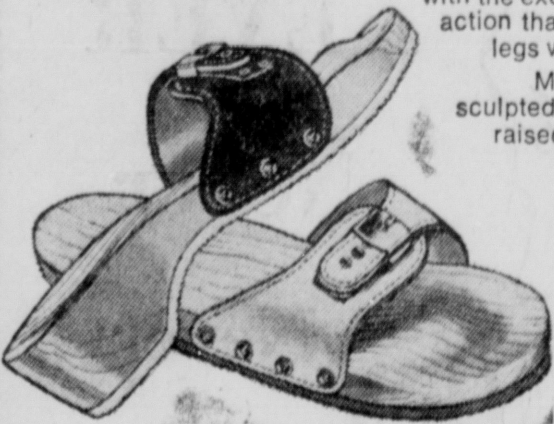

An executive meeting took place recently at the home of Club president, Marie Scorza in Rhinebeck, and the group's first desert card party was held May 5 at St. Christopher's School in Red Hook. Appreciation was extended to Red Hook and Rhinebeck merchants who donated gifts and to all who participated in making the event a success.

RVTA to Present 'Music Man'

Rondout Valley Teachers' Association will present The Music Man at the high school auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 20-22 at 8 p.m. The production is being directed by Mrs. Sharon Murphy.

The play which was written by Meredith Wilson takes place in River City, Iowa, population 2212, in the year 1912. Memorable songs from the musical include the tongue-twisting "Trouble," the heart-pulsing "76 Trombones," and the familiar "Gary, Indiana."

Portraying the role of the charming but underhanded Professor Harold Hill will be Dixon McGrath who was director of Rondout Valley Teachers Association productions in past years. Elke Hekler will enact the role of Marion Paroo, the rather proper librarian. Previous audiences will remember her as Laurie in the Association's production of Oklahoma.

Supporting roles include Nancy Sack as the Irish-brooded Mrs. Paroo; Autie Mayberry as Eulalie MacKecknie Shinn; Warren Schoonmaker as Mayor Shinn. Barbershop quartet buffs should enjoy the performances of Martin Kelly, Andrew Lutz, Chris Westover and Rodney Basten as the singing school board. Also in the cast are Chris Jones, Jennifer Stokes, and Harold Ross as the professor's sidekick.

RVTA produces a play each year to raise scholarship funds for promising young people who wish to enter the teaching profession. Association productions have been an annual event since 1962 and to date, members have raised $15,500 in scholarship funds.

Tickets may be purchased at the high school or checks payable to RVTA may be mailed to Roland Mayberry, Rondout Valley High School, Stone Ridge. Self-addressed, stamped envelopes must be enclosed. Tickets will be available also at the door.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
(© 1971, Emily Post Institute, Inc.)

DEAR MRS. POST: It is unfortunate that so many women and men are afraid to identify with the Women's Liberation movement although they say they believe in the movement's equalizing goals. Singling out the sensational and merely symbolic tactic of bra-burning, as well as the more extreme demands of some, is a sign of cowardice, a fear of alienating one's associates or, in the case of columnists, their readers.

Without the publicity-getting gimmicks, such as picketing male pubs, there would be no movement to bring about these popular goals, no rallying cry, no way of calling attention to the need for every individual to develop into the person he has the potential to be.

MRS. B. Dear Mrs. B.: I do not consider it cowardice to disagree with the methods some organizations use to bring attention to themselves. I realize that it is extremely difficult to make people listen, but I believe they listen more readily when the issue makes sense.

I favor many of the goals of Women's Lib. I believe, however, that the movement has done itself a great disservice by its choice of causes with which to publicize it. An etiquette column is not the place to discuss civil liberties or legal matters. All we can be concerned with here is the lack of courtesy and lack of good taste shown in some of the actions taken by Women's Lib groups.

I received an excellent letter on this subject from a woman who did not include her address. If Mrs. B. Hand will send me her address, I will answer her letter personally.

DEAR MRS. POST: One woman has invited me to two luncheons. How long may I wait before repaying her with a lunch or dinner invitation? I want to get my house cleaning done before inviting anybody over.

RUTH Dear Ruth: You should return a lunch or dinner invitation before the second one is issued! Don't wait for a third; ask your hostess at once. Don't worry about your house cleaning. Spruce up the living room and dining room and forget about the rest. You don't have to conduct a house tour for your guest.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that I receive each week, I will send a free copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette." The question chosen, and its answer, will be published in this column. Send your question to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this newspaper, and don't forget to include your name and address.

Honored Guest at Installation Dinner of Legal Secretaries

The Hon. John L. Larkin, Supreme Court Justice, Third Judicial District, will be guest of honor at the fourth annual installation dinner of Ulster County Legal Secretaries Association to be held at Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday, May 27.

Lawrence H. Cooke, associate justice, Appellate Division, will install the following officers for the 1971-72 year: Bette Maxon, president, secretary to Harry Gold of Kingston; Karen Bitonte, vice president, Richter and Werbalowsky, Kingston; Uldine Rauner, recording secretary, Kaiser and Murray, Ellenville; Ruth Wood, corresponding secretary, Louis P. Francello, Saugerties; E. Margaret Garvillia, treasurer, Lloyd LeFever, Kingston; Carmela Cruice, governor, Connelly and Connelly, Kingston; Maria Fabiano, NALS representative, William S. Brinnier, Saugerties.

Judge Larkin, a native Kingstonian, attended area schools before serving in the South Pacific Theater with the U.S. Navy. He is a graduate of Columbia University and Albany Law School. Since being admitted to the bar in 1950, he has practiced law in Kingston as a partner with Francis Vogt, engaging in active trial work in all courts throughout the state.

He is a member of the New York State Bar Association, and a director of the Ulster County Bar Association, over which he presided in 1956.

Judge Larkin served as chief assistant district attorney for Ulster County from 1955 until 1958 when he was appointed State Tax Commissioner for the county. He and his wife Muriel reside at Manor Avenue, Kingston, with their three children.

Judge Larkin has served as master of ceremonies at previous installation dinners, has taken part in the Association's educational programs, and has shown an interest in its goals.

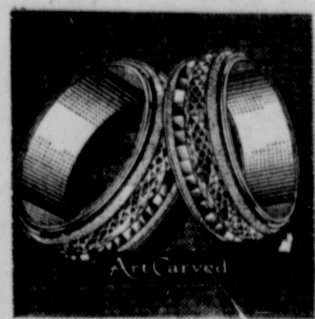

Harry Gold will serve as master of ceremonies. Invitations have been mailed to

Beichert Returns as Legion Commander

PORT EWEN
Esopus American Legion Post 1298 has come full circle, electing its first commander to head the post for the 1971-72 year.

P. Joseph Beichert, founder of the Port Ewen Post and its first commander in 1945-46, was elected Post commander at a recent meeting in the town hall.

Beichert, a World War I veteran, holds the unique distinction of being a charter member of two American Legion Posts, a generation apart, Post 150 in Kingston in 1920 and Post 1298 in 1945.

He has been Ulster County Boys State chairman for more than 25 years and is now serving his seventh three-year term as a member of the Board of directors for the Department of New York for Boys State activities.

Other officers elected by Post 1298 include Hugh Reynolds, Norman C. Bohan and P. Gerard Murphy vice commanders; the Rev. James F. Kerins, C.S.R. of Mt. St. Alphonsus as chaplain; Wayne W. Schubert, adjutant, replacing G. Knute Beichert who served in that position for many years; Raymond A. Cole, historian; Walter C. Sismilich, sergeant-at-arms and George M. Tsitsera, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

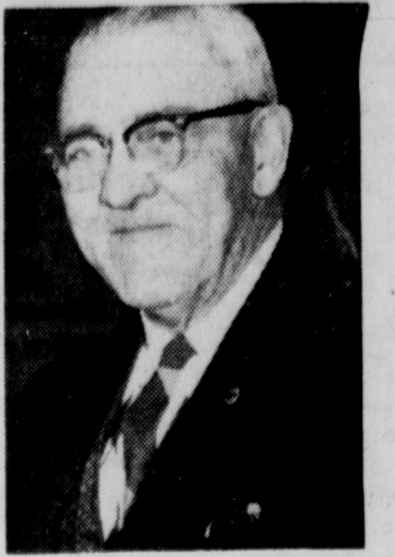

The executive committee includes Robert R. Graves, immediate past commander, Chester W. Barth, Edgar M. Maurer, Roberts S. Steger and G. Knute Beichert.

County delegates are P. J. Beichert, Shubert and Graves with Maurer, Cole and Bohan serving as alternates.

John A. Henry, retired manager of the Port Ewen branch of the Rondout National Bank, is the finance officer.

The Americanism chairman is Graves; Maurer is child welfare chairman; P.J. Beichert, membership; Clifford D. Davis Jr. heads Boys State for the Post; Frank Streigel is in charge of graves registration and Maurer is head of the card party committee. A building committee chairman will be selected at a later date.

Members of the Post, at their regular meeting, also voted to donate five dollars to the Kingston Paid Firemen for their 4th of July fireworks program at Dietz Stadium and five dollars for the Kingston Fraternal Babe Ruth League. Another motion to give $10 to the Town of Esopus March of Dimes was also approved.

Memorial Day Observance

Eight Division Parade Slated in City

KINGSTON with the rank of lieutenant colonel. Eight divisions headed by musical units will step off Monday afternoon, May 31, in a parade that will highlight Kingston's Memorial Day observance sponsored by the Kingston Veterans Association of which Sidney Lane is chairman.

The colorful parade will be led by a police department escort and combined service organization color guard, with Colonel Frank Fabbie, who has a record of 31 years of honorable and faithful service in the Armed Forces of the United States, as grand marshal. Joseph V. Sullivan Jr., Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, is the parade chairman.

Colonel Fabbie presently is on the New York State retired list. He is a former commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard of Kingston, which he joined in 1939. He entered the federal service with this unit and served in the European Theater of Operations as a field artillery officer during World War II.

Fabbie was awarded the Bronze Star and three battle stars on the ETO ribbon. He also has been awarded the Conspicuous Service Cross and the Military Commendation Medal by the State of New York. On his return to the United States he rejoined the 156th Artillery as battery commander and subsequently became the commanding officer of the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was next assigned to Headquarters, 27th Armored Division Artillery where he remained until the reorganization of the New York Army National Guard in February 1968. At that time he was assigned to the Emergency Operation Headquarters as G-1, management of personnel at Albany. He is currently serving as deputy clerk and deputy budget officer of the Ulster County Legislature. He resides at 20 Crane Street with his wife, Cornelia and they have seven children. All color guards, including those from musical units, will mass across from Governor Clinton Hotel in Academy Green Park between 1:45 and 2 p.m. on May 31, with ceremonies starting at the latter hour.

Thomas Hughes of Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be director of color guard at the ceremonies, which will open with the national anthem by Local 215 AFM Band.

Charles L. Culver, of Ulster County's Veteran's Agency, will give the introduction followed by opening prayer by the Rev. Robert Schellenberger, pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, who is chaplain of Ulster League.

Colonel Fabbie will present the Corporal Santorski scholarship award, after which Local 215 AFM Band will render America.

Mayor Francis R. Koenig will deliver the memorial address, followed by benediction by Rabbi Harry Schechtman, Congregation Ahavath Israel, chaplain of American Legion Post 150, Local 215 AFM Band will play America the Beautiful. The program will conclude with a volley by the firing squad of VFW Post 1386 Honor Squad and echo taps by Myron Rossi and Frank (Buster) Ferraro.

All personnel will return immediately to their units upon completion of the pre-parade ceremonies prepared to step off in the parade. In the event of rain the parade will be cancelled and will not be rescheduled. All units will execute salute at the reviewing stand in front of Kingston High School. Musical units will refrain from rehearsing, drumming or tuning up during the pre-parade ceremonies. No drill or maneuvers will be permitted during the parade.

Congressman Fish Announces Service Academy Appointments

KINGSTON Rep. Hamilton Fish, Jr. today announced that 12 applicants from the 28th Congressional District have been selected by the Army, Navy or Air Force for admittance to Academies in the classes to start July 1, 1971. "I am particularly pleased to make the announcement of the Academy appointments, as the Service Academy heads indicate that the ratio of 12 acceptances with another young man tentatively accepted, and eight others on the qualified alternate list, from a total of 44 applicants is unusually high for any Congressional District in the country," Congressman Fish said.

According to Congressman Fish all the appointments were no Congressional appointments credited to him, as a number were selected as qualified alternates while one man received a reserve appointment and another received a direct Presidential appointment. "In my view this underscores the fact that we can be proud of the number of highly qualified people applying from our District," Congressman Fish said.

Receiving appointments to the Air Force Academy are: John A. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Young, Wappingers Falls, N.Y. who received a Presidential appointment.

Roy T. Scheller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Scheller of Catskill, N.Y. who received a Reserve appointment.

Diabetes Group Sets Annual Dinner Meeting

Ulster Chapter, New York Diabetes Association, will hold its annual dinner meeting at Leherb's Restaurant, 240 Boulevard on May 19.

Dinner will be served promptly at 6 p.m. Dr. Paul Entmacher, President-elect of the New York Diabetes Association and medical director of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company will be guest speaker. Dr. Entmacher, an internist, is chairman of the American Diabetes Committee on Insurance and has been active for several years in the New York Diabetes Association and the American Diabetes Association. Dr. Entmacher is familiar with the local chapter having been a guest speaker shortly after the formation in 1966.

During a recent meeting of the chapter the following members were elected to the respective offices for 1971-72: Chairman, Robert E. Begley; Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Morton Brett; Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Begley; Recording secretary, Mrs. Ulisse Marchetti; Treasurer, Mrs. Dale Kuhns; Publicity, Mrs. J. E. Burger; Dr. Norman Burg, physician-advisor for the group since 1966 has complied with a unanimous request to serve in that capacity for the coming year.

Terrence P. Tougas, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Van denDries, Saugerties, has been tentatively accepted for admission to the U.S. Air Force Academy pending receipt of his college transcript.

Accepted at the Military Academy at West Point are: Gary F. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clark of Dover Plains, N.Y.; Charles A. May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. May, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; Nicholas R. O'Hara, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. O'Hara, Kingston, N.Y.; Anthony T. Rowan, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Rowan, Glenham, N. Y.; William J. Partridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Partridge, Mt. Marion; Michael Scoba, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Scoba, Beacon, N.Y.; Ralph V. Showers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Showers, Hunter, N.Y.; John M. Uhorchak, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Milton Uhorchak, Sidney, N. Y. Mark Arden Van Dyke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arden Van Dyke of Middleburgh was the only one appointed to the Naval Academy at Annapolis from those making application.

John E. VandenDries, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. VandenDries, has been tentatively accepted for admission to the U.S. Air Force Academy pending receipt of his college transcript. "This does not necessarily end the number of appointments as there are still eight young people who are on the qualified alternate list and have a chance of appointment should, for any reason, an existing appointment be cancelled," Congressman Fish said.

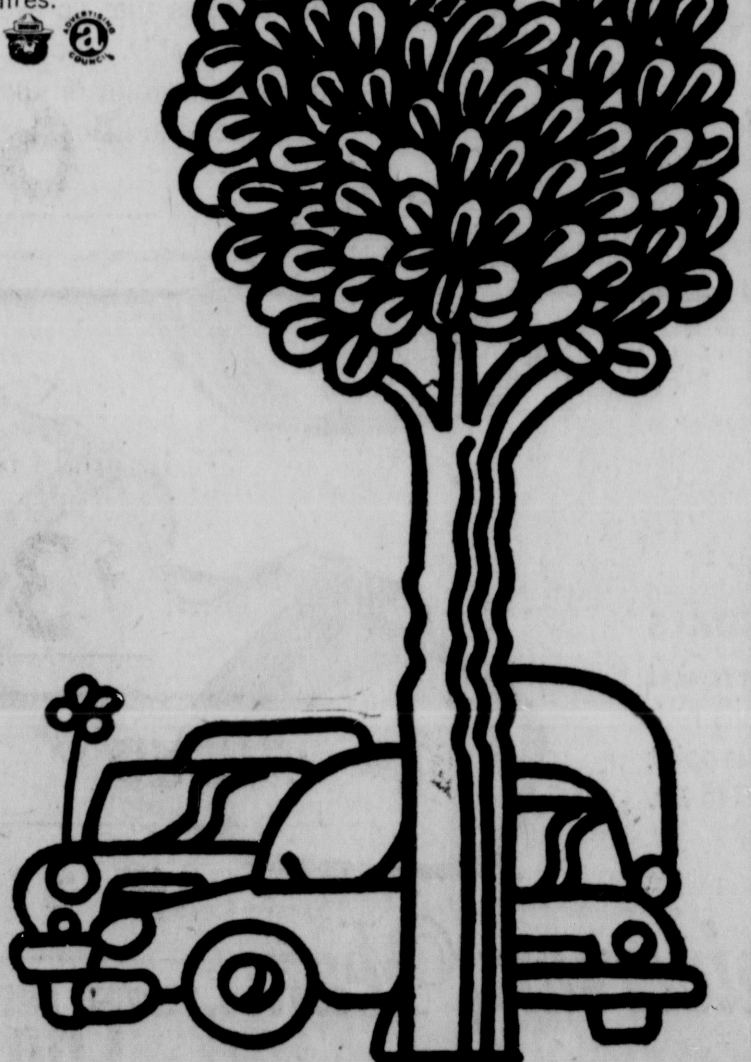

Congressman Fish praised his Academy Review Panel who interview each applicant and make a basic selection. All names are then submitted, with no position of preference and the Academies chose those they consider the most qualified. "We make every effort to have total impartiality, with appointment going fairly for what a young person knows and is, rather than on who he or his parents might happen to know," Congressman Fish said.

Applications by those wishing to enter the 1972 classes should be made to Congressman Fish prior to September 15, 1971.

Mahovlich Boys Lead Montreal Over Hawks

MONTREAL (AP) — "Those Mahovlich boys," Chicago Coach Billy Reay sighed, shaking his head in disbelief. For the second Sunday in a row, that's all Black Hawks goalie Tony Esposito seemed to see. And, as they had a week earlier, it was those Mahovlich boys—Frank and his kid brother, Pete—who carried Montreal to a thrilling victory in the nationally televised National Hockey League championships.

The Canadiens come from behind to that count on a first-period, 4-2 victory for Doug Ellis and the Pirates. The save was his eighth of the season, and at that rate, he might set a major league mark by the end of the season.

The victory enabled the Pirates to salvage the last game of the three game series and cut the Mets' first-place lead to two games. Giusti's closeout performance was especially significant because Met reliever Tug McGraw was touched for two runs in the bottom of the eighth, enabling the Pirates to take a 4-1 lead into the ninth.

The Pirates clinched the victory when singles by Richie Hebner and Al Oliver, Bob Robertson's double and a wild pitch produced the two eighth-inning runs off McGraw. Nolan Ryan suffered his first loss against five victories while Ellis won his fifth game against three defeats.

The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Atlanta Braves, 4-3, the Montreal Expos downed the Cincinnati Reds, 9-3, the Los Angeles Dodgers topped the San Francisco Giants, 9-6, the Houston Astros walloped the St. Louis Cardinals, 12-4, and the Chicago Cubs beat the San Diego Padres, 9-8 in 10 innings.

Black Hawks' net and shipping minutes to the third period, giving the Canadiens only 20 minutes to avert something that had never happened to them before—elimination from the Stanley Cup at home.

They made sure it didn't happen this time either. Barely five minutes into the third period, big brother Frank grabbed the loose puck, raced in on Esposito and fired.

The Chicago netminder stopped the shot but Mahovlich grabbed the rebound and stuffed it into the net.

And less than four minutes later he set up his kid brother with the winner, skating in on the Chicago goal, drawing the Black Hawks defenders to him, then slipping the puck to Pete, who rifled it home.

It was the penalty shot which had the Montreal Forum in an uproar—until Esposito blocked it. The shot—the first in NHL playoff history—pits a lone attacker against only the goalie with just one attempt at a goal.

It was called by referee Art Skov when Frank Mahovlich broke in on Esposito and the netminder threw his stick to deflect the puck.

Then, with the rest of the players out of the way and the puck sitting alone at center ice, Mahovlich skated in circles as the crowd held its breath.

"I took my time before attacking," said Frank. "I was trying to figure out what I would do. But Tony surprised me. I didn't figure he would come out so soon. He came out quickly then started back. As soon as he started back, I shot. Maybe I should have waited longer."

Esposito said playing a penalty shot is "just like any breakaway. You wait for the shooter to make his move and then react."

Pirates Relieved That Dave Stopped Mets

By United Press International

The Pittsburgh Pirates gave the New York Mets a first-hand demonstration Sunday that they could have the "case ace" in the National League East division race again this year.

He's reliever Dave Giusti and he proved to be the decisive factor last year in the Pirates' victory over the Mets and Chicago Cubs in the NL's East. A journeyman with a sub-500-record until last season when he had a 9-3 record and 26 saves, Giusti started the 1971 season with rivals demanding to know: "Can he do it again or was he a one-year wonder?"

The answer seems to be that Giusti can do it again because he came out of the bullpen Sunday to cut off the Mets' ninth-inning rally and complete a 4-2 victory for Doug Ellis and the Pirates. The save was his eighth of the season, and at that rate, he might set a major league mark by the end of the season.

The victory enabled the Pirates to salvage the last game of the three game series and cut the Mets' first-place lead to two games. Coleman Puts One Over on Old Pals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Denny McLain and Joe Coleman have taken turns putting one over on their old friends with a lot of help from their new friends.

Coleman, traded from Washington to Detroit last fall in the celebrated McLain deal, pitched against the Senators for the first time Sunday—and beat them 5-4 on Mickey Stanley's second home run of the game after squandering a four-run lead.

Last Friday night, McLain made his first start against the Tigers—and blew a 2-0 advantage in the ninth inning before winning 3-2 on Paul Casanova's sacrifice fly.

In other American League games, Minnesota defeated the Chicago White Sox 6-2; Milwaukee topped California 6-2; and Oakland divided a doubleheader with Kansas City, bowing 10-4 after a 4-2 first game victory. Rain washed out the Baltimore-Boston game and the Cleveland-New York Yankees doubleheader.

Second-inning homers by Stanley and Norm Cash helped stake Coleman to a 4-0 lead, but big Frank Howard slashed a homer and run-scoring single as the Senators fought back to tie.

Coleman, who suffered a fractured skull when he was hit by a line drive in a March 27 exhibition game, was on the ropes after Howard's fifth-inning single knotted it.

But Tigers Manager Billy Martin stuck with the 24-year-old right-hander and he responded by tossing one-hit ball the rest of the way—while Stanley broke the deadlock with a leadoff homer off reliever Denny Riddleberger in the eighth.

Cesar Tovar scored the deciding run on a sixth-inning balk by Chicago reliever Vincente

Romo as the Twins came from behind to trim the White Sox. Minnesota tied the game 2-2 in the sixth on doubles by George Mitterwald and pinch-hitter Charlie Manuel, an error by pitcher Tom Bradley on Tovar's sacrifice bunt and a single by Rich Reese.

Romo then came out of the Chicago bullpen, walked Harmon Killebrew on four pitches, and was charged with a balk when he slipped off the mound on a 2-0 pitch to Jim Holt, enabling Tovar to score.

The Twins drew away on Leo Cardenas' seventh-inning homer and a two-run double by Mitterwald in the eighth.

Ellie Rodriguez and Ted Kubiak smacked their first home runs of the season and Tommy Harper broke out of a prolonged slump with a triple, double and two singles, leading Milwaukee past the Angels.

Skip Lockwood squared his pitching record at 3-3 with eight-inning relief help from Ken Sanders.

In the first game at Kansas City, the As capitalized on an error by shortstop Fred Patek, who failed to touch second base on a one-out force play, to snap a seventh-inning tie on run-scoring singles by Bert Campaneris and Reggie Jackson.

John "Blue Moon" Odom, making his first start of the season after recovering from winter elbow surgery, pitched six strong innings for Oakland in the nightcap before going out for a pinchhitter.

But the Royals overcame a 4-2 deficit in the seventh with a four-run uprising keyed by Bob Knoop's two-run pinch single and then punched over four more runs in the eighth to wrap it up.

Paul Schaaf led the Kansas City attack with a single, a run in the ninth as the Dodgers produced double and a two-run homer.

Jim Hickman hit a two-run homer with none out in the 10th to give the Cubs the victory after they trailed, 7-1. Hickman's blow came off a 7-1 Santorum after Billy Williams walked to lead off the inning and went to second on a passed ball. Ron Santo also homered for the Cubs while Larry Stahl connected for the Padres. It was the sixth victory in a row for the Cubs. The second game will be completed on Aug. 4.

Red Wings Take Two

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Rochester Red Wings at long last were beginning to demonstrate why they were considered prime contenders for the International League pennant this season.

After languishing in or near the basement most of the early going, the Red Wings suddenly have won six straight to pull within a game of the .500 mark and into a virtual tie for fourth place.

The Red Wings extended their streak Sunday night with a 10-9, 9-3 doubleheader sweep over the Winnipeg Whips and crept to within five percentage points of the fourth-place Tidewater Tides, who came from far behind to edge the Charleston Charles 13-12 in a single game.

Richmond's Braves, almost as hot as Rochester, made it five in a row on their road trip with a 4-2 victory at Louisville that propelled them into second place past Charleston. League-leading Syracuse split a twin bill at Toledo, winning the eight-inning opener 5-3 but losing the nightcap 6-4.

George Farson's homer, Don Baylor's RBI double and Mike Ferraro's two-run single featured a five-run Rochester uprising in the fifth inning of the second game, and Baylor hit a three-run homer as the Red Wings got four more runs in the sixth.

Ferraro had a two-run single and there were two errors, three walks, a stolen base and another hit in Rochester's five-run first inning in the opener.

The Whips hit four homers but never caught up. Winnipeg wound up the four-game series with 15 roundtrippers and not a victory.

"Unknown Horse" Waits for Belmont

Canonero Makes Believers

GOING AWAY — Canonero II (9) is pulling away from Eastern Fleet at the finish line in the 96th running of the Preakness Stakes Saturday to take the second jewel of the Triple Crown. Gustave Avila was aboard Canonero II and Edward Maple was astride Eastern Fleet. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—second 'jewel in the Triple Crown' with another strong latest wonder horse with back to back victories in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, quietly rested in his barn at Pimlico Sunday, awaiting shipment to Belmont Park and a crack at the Triple Crown.

The long striding colt, whose victory in the Preakness Stakes Saturday was even more startling than his upset triumph in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago, probably will be vanned to New York on Tuesday to run in the Belmont Stakes on June 5.

Not many 3-year-olds were expected to challenge Canonero in his attempt to become the ninth horse in history to win the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont.

Rival horsemen, who dismissed the colt's victory in the Kentucky Derby as a "fluke," now were believers. They had claimed the slow last quarter and the slow clocking of 2:03 1/5 marked him as a "plodder" who ran down tired horses in the stretch. Now they readily conceded that Canonero turned into an amazing performer. No one could recall a horse who won two of America's great races with such different tactics.

In the Kentucky Derby, jockey Gustave Avila let Canonero drop back to 18th in a field of 20. With only a half mile to go, the Kentucky-bred colt was shipped to Venezuela was 20 lengths from the front. With a tremendous closing rush the colt not only made up the 20 lengths but pulled away in the stretch to win by almost four lengths.

The biggest crowd in Maryland racing history, 47,211 strong, showed up at Pimlico to see Canonero try to win the Eastern Fleet on the rail and three-fifths of a second off the South American charger record. The "plodder" of the right alongside him. They Kentucky Derby had changed reached the mile in 1:35 at the into a "speed ball" in the start of the homestretch and Preakness and all who saw it pounded down the straightaway hardly could believe it.

Canonero inched ahead to stay, nosed out Sound Off for third, the bay son of Pretendre slowly. "It was amazing, simply increasing his advantage to a amazing," said Peter Kissel length and a half and Nasuha's when he visited the barn 16-year-old track record was Sunday to see if his Execution smashed.

Nashua was timed in 1:54 3/5 from the bumping the colt in winning the 1955 Preakness. received at the start by The mark defied all efforts to Eastern Fleet.

Canonero charged across the before declaring the result finish line in 1:54 flat, clipping official.

When they did, Canonero paid $8.80 to win, a far cry from the $19.40 he returned in the Kentucky Derby when the colt was part of the lowly "mutuel field."

Now Canonero looms as an odds-on favorite to win the Belmont Stakes and become the ninth horse in history to do so. Few of those who tangled with him will try again. There are several good colts ready who have remained on the sidelines so far.

Good Behavior, winner of the Swift, Gotham and Wood Memorial, probably will try. So will Bold Reasoning, an undefeated colt who won his fifth straight recently in taking the Withers Stakes. Run The Gantlet, one of last season's top 2-year-olds when he won the Garden State Stakes, may be ready. And so may On Your Toes, who equaled the Pimlico track record for 1 1/16 miles last Wednesday.

Judge, Pantry Man Share Can-Am Run

MONTICELLO — D Judge and Pantry Man won the two divisions of the touring Can-Am Series at Monticello Raceway Saturday night, each of the nine-hour divisions for purses of $9,375.

D Judge, driven by Sheldon Goudreau, scored by a head in the first heat, edging Billy Joe who came from the trailing No. 9 spot. Wilrose Lobell was third in the heat timed in 2:04.1. The winner paid $15.40.

The earlier legs of the Can-Am were raced at Batavia, Vernon Downs and Saratoga. After Monticello they trek to Blue Bonnets and Garden City in Canada before the June 4 finale at Buffalo.

D Judge missed at Saratoga when an early interference break sent him offside. But the three-year-old gamecock colt had it Saturday night in a duel down the stretch to overtake and finally poke his head in front of Billy Joe.

In the second half of the Can-Am, Pantry Man, catch-driven by James Grund came from the outside No. 8 post and at even money won like a favorite, by two and a half lengths. Chasing him home were Steady March and Daring Knight. Pantry Man, timed in 2:03, returned $4.00.

Grund got Pantry Man to the front at the quarter and rated the four-year-old son of Adios Butler well, opening up the last eight. It was the second Can-Am victory for Pantry Man, who also won on an off-track at Saratoga.

The featured fast pacers at the Raceway took the dust of a newcomer, when Victory Dart shipped in from Northfield, Ohio, showed his heels to the rest of the field in a classy 2:01.1 performance. Driven by trainer Archie McNeil, whose right wrist was encased in a cast while it knits from a break, Victory Dart took the lead away from Cardinal Garrison right after a blistering 1:00 half mile and won by three-quarters of a length over closing Captain Courageous and Byegone.

It was McNeil's first drive at the Mighty M and a successful one that returned $7.20, $4.60 and $3.20. Owens Osborne Farms of Mentor Ohio, Victory Dart has now posted three wins in eight starts this year.

Earlier Saturday evening, a pair of longshots provided a whopping $349.60 payoff in the daily double. The 6-6 combination saw Tri Mix win the first ($24.40) and Derringer ($33.99) home in front in the second.

In the third race, Shadydale Air Raid posted his third win in a row in the young Monticello season for Gilles LaChance, paying $9.60.

The Superfecta combination of 3-1-7-2 paid $6,420.30 for a $3 ticket. Making up the winning ticket were: Mike Express (10.40), Leila's Star (5.80), (Ebonny) Pick (7.40) and Sanburn Adios.

A crowd of 8,535 poured $643.50 through the pari-mutuels.

Trick Shooter Tops at Katrine

Paul LaCross, well-known trick shooter, did some fine straight skeet shooting at the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club range Wednesday. LaCross led the regular weekly shoot with a 920.

Other skeet scores were: Grover Ellsworth, 907; Bob Schmedake, 800; Chet Joy, Stu Miller, 780.

In trap shooting, Ray Markle was the leader with a 960-25 straight. Others were: Nick Mauro, 940; Bob Schmedake, 920; Art Bernardini, 900; Dick Reed, 860; Bill Costello, 840; Ed Axelson, 820.

The Ulster County Circuit Shoot will be held at the Lake Katrine range this Sunday, May 16. Starting time has been moved up to 11 a.m.

Newark Checks Kickers

MORGAN HILL. Newark Sport Club, a Major Division powerhouse, defeated Kingston Sport Club Kickers, 4-2, Sunday in their next to the last game on the 1970-71 season. The game was scheduled in the Premier Division of the German-American Soccer Association.

But it really didn't hurt that much. The Kickers had safely preserved their Premier Division status for 1971-72 with a win last weekend.

Newark broke away from the Kickers in a stormy, argument-ridden contest in which three players, the Kickers' Gino Ventriglia and Jim Reinhardt and Newark's Nick Giraldo were bounced for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Ventriglia and Giraldo clashed at the 40-minute mark and were ejected. Five minutes from the end of the game, the referee tossed Reinhardt out of the game for disputing a call.

Newark's crack center forward — Fred Geislinger — dominated the contest with three goals, two late in the contest. The half ended 1-1.

Geislinger's first goal at 22 minutes opened the scoring. Spiro Neofestatos countered for Kingston three minutes later and that was all the scoring in the first half which ended 1-1.

A Reinhardt goal gave the Kickers a brief 2-1 lead at the 55-minute mark but after that it was all Newark. Geislinger booked home the equalizer at 63 minutes. Wagiu put Newark ahead, 3-2 at 75 minutes and Geislinger closed out the scoring with his third goal at 84 minutes. Reinhardt's ejection followed a minute later.

Kingston has one game remaining on the current schedule, against Kolping at a date to be fixed later. Thereafter, the Kickers will concentrate on exhibition games, and international match and the Hudson Valley Tournament.

A change of managers is scheduled for the 1971-72 campaign, as Henry Ingher was named Friday night to succeed Oskar Benzenhofer. The latter had succeeded long-time pilot Robert Graves of Port Ewen, who is no longer connected with the team.

Jordan Hurls Owls' Victory

Pitching continued to dominate Jaycees Little League action Monday, as Kevin Jordan of the Owls hurled a 2-hitter and struck out 14 in a 5-1 victory over the Crows. Jordan also hit a two-run single.

The losing pitcher, Matt Suppies, yielded only four hits and fanned 13. No player on either side got more than one hit.

Twilight Loop Needs One Team

Kingston City Baseball League is still looking for that sixth team for the 1971 season that gets under way June 14 at Dietz Stadium.

Fred Davi, league president, said five entries to date are Kingston Merchants, Hurley VFW, Kingston Lions, Saugerties Legion and Rosendale Merchants.

Davi said that if enough players are interested he would form a Glasco Athletic Club team to bring the league total to six. He would like to hear from Babe Ruth League players.

McWeeney Has L-Hitter, Ks 16

Mike McWeeney hurled a 1-hitter and struck out 16 to lead Nytralite Tigers to a 14-1 romp over the Ulster Lions Club Indians in the Town of Ulster Little League. The Tigers scored 10 runs in the fifth inning.

McWeeney also slugged a homer and single among the 9 hits Tigers collected off Dave Ferraro, who fanned nine. Mike Kesick rapped two singles and a triple and Jay Binney two singles for the winners.

Bill Sass, Indians' second baseman and leadoff batter, accounted for the only hit off McWeeney.

4-H Light Horse Show Will Have Variety

A variety of English, Western and Pony classes will be featured in the 4th Annual Ulster County Horse Show sponsored by the 4-H Light Horse Leaders. The event takes place Sunday, May 23, at the county fair grounds starting at 8 a.m. Proceeds go to the club's scholarship program.

A $50 barrel race has been added. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded in each class. Joseph Vanorio of Pound Ridge will be the show judge.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Wesley LeFevre, 443 South Ohioville Road, New Paltz; or Arthur Heidkamp, RFD 1, Box 380, Kingston.

SWEET TALK — Sandra Palmer, who won the Sealy-LPGA Classic with an eagle-3 from a trap on the 72nd hole to win $10,000 first prize, responds with obvious joy at the presentation of the check, by Howard Haas, president of Sealy. It was largest payoff in LPGA history. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Sandra Wins With Eagle

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—round. Closest to her score Jack Nicklaus would be hard were the 74s recorded by Miss Caponi, Miss Blalock and Muriel Breer, who wound up in a tie for 30th place in the 51-player field at 305.

Bidding for her fourth straight LPGA tournament victory, Sandra Haynie faded to a 79 to wind up in a tie for eighth place at 300.

That gave her a two-under-par 71 and a 72-hole total of 289, three under, for the $10,000 first prize and a $5,000 station wagon.

"I don't think I've recovered my senses yet," Miss Palmer said a half hour after completing her round. "I'm still a little nervous until those last few holes."

A member of the women's pro golf tour since 1964, Miss Palmer posted her second victory. The first came only last November in the Japanese Women's Open.

Donna Caponi of North Hollywood, Calif., leader at the 54-hole and 36-hole marks, was one over par at 74 to finish at 291 for second place. She earned $6,000.

Janie Blalock, Concord, N.H., also had a final-day 74 for 292 and a $4,200 payoff.

Tied for fourth at 296 were Jo Ann Prentice and Marlene Hagge, each with 76s Sunday. Miss Palmer's round was the best of the wind-blown last

Hawk Golfers Third in NAIA

SAG HARBOR, L. I. Golfers from New Paltz State finished third in the NAIA District 31 championships played Friday at the Noyack Golf and Country Club. The Noyack, in Sag Harbor, Long Island, is a par 72, 100-yard course.

The Hawk linksmen hit 329 strokes to finish behind Plattsburgh's 323 and a 326 by Pace. Trenton State was fourth with a 330 and Southampton finished fifth at 333. Rutgers came in sixth with 336. In all, 15 teams competed in the event.

Plattsburgh will now go to the National Championship in Rockford, Illinois, later this month. New Paltz captain, Jack Jordan, tied for low medalist honors with Mark Weintraub of Southampton. Both boys finished with 40-37-77. Weintraub then won a trip to the nationals as he took Jordan on the third extra hole of sudden death playoff.

Other New Paltz scores were: Bill Paul, 40-42-82; Tim Rockett 40-45-85; Bill Miller 41-44-85; Bob Letnick 44-44-88.

Your Horoscope

Tuesday, May 18

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Think about what you can do that brings you closer to persons, in touch with the conditions which can be most helpful to you. Then, work out a plan of action that can lead to greater receptivity to worthwhile conditions that you have not yet become a part of. Avoid the risky, unreliable.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Plan how to get in touch with advisors and experts who are best equipped to give you the support you need. A good day to be of service to others. Don't allow worries to take root.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): You have a personal plan that others will gladly cooperate with you to put across. Ask for their help early. Evening is fine for social activities. Think in a practical vein.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Show higher-ups that you value their skills and gain their goodwill. Show own talents as well. Come to a fine understanding. Get into civic work that appeals to you and get fine results.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): You are able now to envision best way to advance that has not been possible before. Make the right contacts. Plan a vacation you want to take in the near future.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Your hunches are excellent today, so let them propel you in right directions. Make the best impression you can on any kind of tangent.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Don't hesitate asking questions of associates about what is expected of you and then mutual ventures become successful. A situation arises that will add to the popularity that you now enjoy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Your sense of beauty and culture is now great. You can do much to make your home or business place more charming and of greater worth. Shop with care. Fellow workers will cooperate if you are helpful to them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): If you plan to be with good friends, this can be an especially fine day for you. Attend social amusements that you enjoy. Showing more affection to mate is most important to harmony.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You have been too independent at home and have been criticizing too much, so change your attitude now. Buy those items that add to comfort and efficiency at home. Take it easy tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Start making everything around you as perfect as you can, and then do some buying and selling that is important. You have a plan to present to an associate, so do it in a very precise way. Many benefits can come from this.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You need more money, so get busy on those projects that will give you added abundance. Forget recreation and stick to the practical. Improve your budget as well as any property you have.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A good day to discuss plans with associates. Then, put them in operation quickly. They will gladly help you. Attend the social tonight and add new friends to present roster.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: he or she will be one of those delightful young people with tremendous vision and imagination, and the ability to whittle ideas down to a workable formula. There is a definite clairvoyant quality in this chart and others will come to your child for assistance. Give right spiritual training early in life. Sports are necessary.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for June is now ready. Oswald: "The Chinese team had finished second to Italy in 1969 and we were not surprised to find them opposing us in the 1970 finals. They play a system called 'The Precision Club.' It is a good system, but enormously complicated."

Jim: "It is far too complicated for ordinary players and may be too complicated even for the Chinese. Bobby Wolff and I reached six clubs on today's hand. The bidding in the box shows how the Chinese got to seven."

Oswald: "The first two bids look normal, but the opening bid was artificial and merely showed at least 16 high-card points. The one-diamond response was also artificial and was supposed to show 5 points or less. Two clubs showed the suit and four spades was the 'impossible negative' that said he really had a very good hand with a singleton spade. South's five-spade call was due to his having misconstrued their convention. He thought that North had a good hand with a very long spade suit. North jumped to seven clubs to make sure his partner wouldn't try anything like seven spades."

Jim: "Seven clubs was a lay-down since there were 12 top tricks and both red queens are doubleton in front of the ace-king-jack. Tai of China drew trumps and cashed his ace-king of hearts to see if the queen would drop. It did not and he claimed."

Jean Adams'

TEEN FORUM

DISCOVERY: (Comment) Many of the teen-agers who write you are having problems with their parents. I have problems, too, but I take a different approach. I talk to my parents like I would talk to other people.

We teen-agers so often forget that our parents are human beings like us, and of the same race also.

And, in addition, they have something that people of all races have—FEELINGS!

I discovered this race and precious knowledge almost too late. I hurt my parents. Luckily they gave me another chance, and I made a promise to myself and to them not to make the same mistake again.

I'm glad I found out in time that they are PEOPLE like me—Grateful Girl in Milford, Conn.

(A.) You found the magic key all teens and their parents should have and use. Hang onto it. Keep using it. It will bring you many blessings.

KISS COMPLAINT: (Q.) I really liked this boy and he liked me, but I didn't care for his kind of kisses. He thinks I'm weird because of this. I'm afraid he will talk to other boys about me and no one will ever like me. What can I do to prevent this?—Afraid in Ohio.

(A.) Not anything, really. You have already done the right thing. A girl must be honest with a boy and say no to kisses or other types of lovemaking that she thinks are wrong or distasteful.

Millions of girls do this and keep having friends. Your ex-boy friend probably hasn't said anything to other boys or you probably would have heard about it by now. It is altogether likely that he secretly admires you for taking the stand you took.

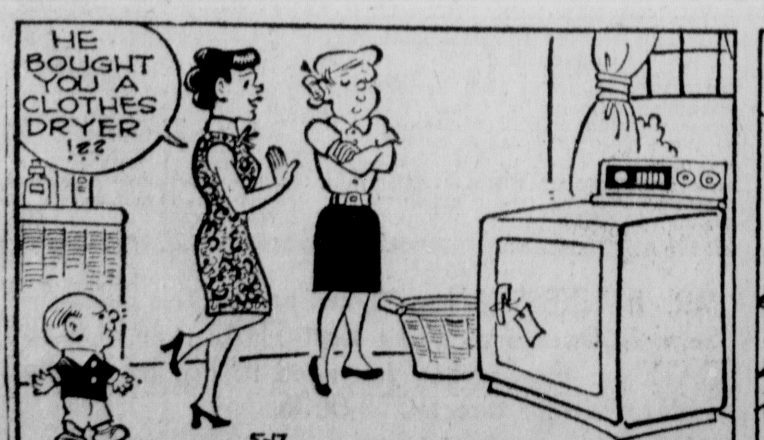

(Want personal answers to your questions? Write to Jean Adams, Box 3102, Houston, Texas 77001. Only letters that include a stamped, self-addressed envelope will be answered.)

Some Surprising Rewards

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Lure of the Tall Ship" on CBS Sunday night was an hour that held surprising rewards even for the viewer with little interest in sailing ships or the methods used to train Danish sailors for the merchant marine.

The Danmark, a 38-year-old, 200-foot sailing ship was the star of the program. But the cadet crew of 80 boys—ages 15 to 18—provided both drama and humor during the long voyage from Copenhagen to the West Indies. Three boys who spoke fairly fluent English were featured. They described their emotions—there was a homesick period at Christmas in the mid-Atlantic. One 15-year-old, learning to be a ship's cook, was the comedian of the show, partly because of his small size and his determination to keep up with the rest of the crew.

The photography was excellent—particularly the shots of the boys working on masts and sails more than 100 feet above the decks.

CBS tucked the program at the end of its schedule, preempting a rerun of Jackie Gleason's "Honeydoers."

Benjamin Britten's "Owen Wingrave," an opera written before television and based on a Henry James story, had its world premiere on the Public Broadcasting stations Sunday night, too.

The story was about a conscientious objector who suffers for his convictions. Ultimately he got mixed up with some family ghosts who did him in. It was a bit melodramatic.

The only other network special of the weekend was ABC's "This Is Tom Jones," which turned up in Pearl Bailey's Saturday night spot. This qualifies the program as special, but the program content suggested that it was a Tom Jones hour that had been turned out before his weekly series was canceled at midseason.

Jones did his usual quota of singing and writhing. Paul Anka sang some of his own music. Dusty Springfield had a couple of numbers and Frank Sinatra ran through the impressions that have become his trademark—Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas and Richard Widmark—among others. The performance of the musical numbers—apparently mandated—was particularly lame.

VOW SADAT SUPPORT — President Anwar Sadat (C) addresses a police delegation headed by the new Minister of Interior, Mamdouh Salem (left, background) outside Sadat's Giza home Sunday. The delegation pledged their support of Sadat in his latest shakeup of the Egyptian government. Nearly 300 persons have been arrested or fired from government and political posts in the sweeping purge. (UPI CABLEPHOTO).

Egypt — The Purges Underway

By United Press International
President Anwar Sadat took over as head of Egypt's police force today, apparently consolidating his control of the nation. Wide-ranging purges were underway with hundreds of arrests reported.

Sadat carried out a major purge Thursday, firing six cabinet ministers and three other top political leaders. In addition, nearly 300 other officials, either have been arrested or relieved from government posts.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today 110 persons have been arrested and referred to courts for trial. It said "their actions indicated they were working against the interests and security of the masses."

The semiofficial Middle East News Agency (MENA) said the police force named Sadat as its supreme head and he accepted the job.

A seventh cabinet minister also was reported fired.

According to official sources in Cairo, Communications Minister Kamel Henry Badir was the latest to go. He was the only Christian member of Sadat's 33-member cabinet and has served in his position for a number of years.

In New York, Secretary of State William P. Rogers and his assistant, Joseph J. Sisco, were briefing U.N. Secretary General Thant and U.N. Middle East negotiator Gunnar V. Jarring today on their efforts to get an agreement to reopen the Suez Canal.

The two U.S. officials were presenting a detailed report on the results of their recent visits to Cairo and Jerusalem. The conference was billed as "informative" only and pronouncements so far indicated that a formal resumption of the Jarring talks with Israeli and Egyptian representatives was not envisaged for the moment.

The main points of contention between Israel and Egypt at the moment on possible reopening of the waterway revolve around how far Israel would withdraw its forces from the eastern bank of the canal and whether Egyptian forces would be allowed to cross the canal once the Israelis have withdrawn.

In Cairo, Sadat appeared well in control of the political situation. For the second day in a row, demonstrators marched through the streets Sunday shooting their support for Sadat, who took over as president following the death of Gamal Abdel Nasser Sept. 28.

A First for Hanoi — Fire Missiles at Gunship

SAIGON (EP) — A North Vietnamese battery fired two missiles at a U.S. gunship plane 23 miles inside Laos Sunday, and another SAM site threatened a flight of American fighter-bombers.

The U.S. command announced today that American troop strength in Vietnam was reduced by 4,600 men last week to 262,500, the lowest total in more than five years.

Of the men withdrawn last week, 2,600 were Marines, leaving 8,600 in South Vietnam. All but a small number of advisors will be withdrawn by early June.

The total U.S. troop strength is the lowest since March 1966, when there were 231,200 men.

None of the U.S. planes were hit. One of the jet fighter-bombers attacked one of the SAM sites with unknown results, the U.S. Command said.

A spokesman, Maj. Charles Johnson, said his records indicated it was the first time the Soviet-supplied missiles had been fired at one of the AC130 gunships, a four-engine converted transport loaded with the Lockheed C130 Hercules special electronic equipment to detect truck traffic on the Ho Chi Minh trail. Johnson said, however, that enemy ground fire brought down an AC130 in the lower panhandle of Laos on April 22, 1970, and its 10 crewmen were listed as missing.

The AC130 on Sunday presumably was on the prow for North Vietnamese trucks when it was fired on.

The missiles came from a battery in the vicinity of the Ban Karai pass, on the North Vietnamese border about 31 miles northwest of the DMZ, Johnson said. But he said there was no U.S. retaliation to the attack.

The hour of the attack was not reported, but the AC130s usually fly at night because their special devices can seek out trucks in the darkness. The prop-driven plane is a version of the Lockheed C130 Hercules with a maximum speed of 360 miles an hour. The AC130 and another gunship, the AC119, have been credited with destroying more than 100 trucks during one night's attacks along the Ho Chi Minh trail.

In the other air section, three U.S. Navy A7 fighter-bombers were operating against the Ho Chi Minh trail 87 miles northwest of the DMZ when the radar system of a SAM site five miles inside North Vietnam began tracking them preparatory to firing, Johnson said.

One of the A7s fired one missile at the site with unknown results, and the three planes returned safely to the carrier Kit by Hawk in the Tonkin Gulf.

It was the 38th so-called protective reaction strike this year against anti-aircraft defenses in North Vietnam.

In other war action: The enemy fired five rockets at a U.S. helicopter base at Lai Khe, 30 miles north of Saigon, and slammed 10 mortars into a field position of troops of the 173rd Airborne Brigade on the coastal plain 265 miles farther north. Field reports said some Americans were killed and wounded and some aircraft were damaged. Two enemy gunners were reported killed when their fire was returned.

U.S. and South Vietnamese aircraft pounded North Vietnamese and Viet Cong positions in eastern Cambodia in support of two new South Vietnamese units along a 60-mile stretch of border ranging from 50 miles west to 100 miles northwest of Saigon. Allied communiques said 41 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were killed, and no South Vietnamese casualties were reported.

Mideast Lull Predicted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Anwar Sadat's purge of his Egyptian rivals. They said until the situation in Cairo clarifies, Washington would be unable to pursue its campaign for an Egyptian-Israeli agreement to permit reopening of the Suez Canal.

Diplomatic maneuvers also will be hampered for the rest of this month because Premier Golda Meir will be visiting Scandinavia, and Foreign Minister Abba Eban will be touring Africa.

Israeli leaders took a restrained attitude toward Sadat's arrest of rivals he accused of plotting against him. The Israeli cabinet heard reports Sunday on Egypt's political turmoil from Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and the army intelligence chief, Lt. Gen. Haron Yariv.

No details of the cabinet discussion were disclosed. But specialists on Arab affairs agreed that Sadat's purge was prompted by internal political friction and not by his recent attempts to reach agreement with Israel on the canal. However, they would not speculate on how Sadat's shakeup may affect efforts toward a settlement.

The uncertainty felt by policy makers in Jerusalem was reflected in the lack of political declarations for or against Sadat.

In Cairo, Sadat hit back at critics of his efforts to reach a peaceful settlement with Israel. "We are seeking peace based on justice, not peace at any price as some people think," Sadat said in an address to Moslem religious leaders.

"We are following three parallel paths, the military buildup which is the basis, the political struggle and the construction of a modern state based on faith and science."

"We must purge our lands of the Israeli enemy."

The official Middle-East News Agency said Sadat continued his house-cleaning by firing Communications Minister Kamel Henei Abadir and replacing him with Abdel Malek Saad, an engineer. The president also appointed Gen. Saad el Shazli health, the highest office given to an Arab in the Jewish state. Mohammed Sadek, who was elevated to war minister and commander in chief.

Sadat dismissed six officials of the information ministry, and a number of police officials in the ministry of interior were expected to be pensioned off.

Public demonstrations in support of Sadat continued. Thousands of workers marched in Cairo, and peasants came in from the surrounding countryside to express their approval of his actions. Public rallies were held across the country. Speakers at them praised Sadat and attacked his opponents.

The Israeli government announced the appointment of an Arab as deputy minister of health, the highest office given to an Arab in the Jewish state. Mohammed Sadek, a 45-year-old Moslem, is a leading member of the Marxist political party Mapam, which works for closer Arab-Jewish cooperation and is in coalition with the ruling Labor party.
